President, In Christmas Message, Pledges Peace

Nation's Yule Tree Set Aglow By Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, whose voice has been broadcasting a Christmas message of peace from space, added a personal plea Tuesday night for cooperation among nations.

Just before he pushed a button setting aglow a towering national Christmas tree, the President said he wished he could "by the light of understanding and cooperation" illuminate the darkness that sometimes encompasses the world.

With Mrs. Eisenhower standing by, the President wished America and the world peace and a merry Christmas as he stood hatless in a gray suit at the opening of the annual Pageant of Peace in a park south of the White House.

7,500 Attend Ceremony

Eisenhower emphasized "I again give my solemn word" that the people of the United States and their government "do not want war" and "will always welcome and accept serious and honest proposals to negotiate international differences."

Raindrops began to fall in the park almost as the President arrived by car from the White House. A soft rain continued for the half-hour ceremony. But the crowd of 7,500 remained to give an audible sigh of delight as the great tree — a giant Englemann spruce from a mountain forest near Libby, Montana—burst into shimmering light at the President's touch. Amid the red, blue, yellow and silver balls, ornaments and candy canes were 49 gold stars for the states of the union.

And nearby on the spacious grounds of the park were eight reindeer, a gift from Alaska, on its first Christmas since Congress voted to make it a state.

Scouts Bring Greetings

The President, putting on his glasses, read his message to the American people and "to the peoples of the world." He stood protected from the rain on a white stage decorated with six 10-foot red Christmas candles.

Mrs. Eisenhower wore a small red hat, a red and black print dress and red gloves showing from her beaver coat.

Bringing greetings to the Eisenhowers from the youth of the nation were Girl Scout Elizabeth Anne Lamphere of Fairfax County, Va., who gave Mrs. Eisenhower a bouquet of red roses, and Boy Scout Robert Elder of Arlington, Va.

Pilgrims Pour Into Holy City For Services

Throngs Prepare To Celebrate Birth Of Prince Of Peace

By The Associated Press

Pilgrims are thronging Bethlehem for Christmas services at the birthplace of the Prince of Peace and for prayers for a world troubled by the specter of war.

Up to 5,000 are expected to take part in Wednesday's ceremonies.

Mideast tensions were temporarily eased and the atmosphere of the bleak little Judean hill town—under Jordan's flag since division of the Holy Land by force of arms 10 years ago—was relaxed.

But bloodshed went on in Algeria, Cuba and Quemoy. Berliners celebrated, nagged by fear their divided city might become the flash point of an East-West explosion before the new year is half gone.

President Eisenhower told the world in a Christmas broadcast that the United States always will welcome and accept serious and honest proposals to negotiate international differences.

Pleas For Peace

". . . The people of the United States and their government do not want war," he said. "They want to work steadfastly to make 'peace on earth, good will toward men' a reality for all humankind."

From Vatican City, Pope John XXIII broadcast a plea for Christian unity and peace. He said there must be vigilance against the insidiousness of the enemies of God—a clear reference to atheistic communism.

Two American religious leaders were in Europe for Christmas observances of U.S. servicemen.

Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, president of the National Council of Churches and pastor of a Baptist church in St. Louis, spoke at the Zaragoza Air Force Base in Spain.

The East-West stalemate "can be ended only through faith in God and a wholesome fear of His judgments."

Cardinal In Germany

Francis Cardinal Spellman, military vicar of Roman Catholics in the U.S. armed forces, arrived at Wiesbaden to spend Christmas with American servicemen based in Germany. He is to celebrate a Pontifical High Mass at an Air Force chapel in Wiesbaden at midnight.

Gen. Wang Shu-ming, chief of Nationalist China's general staff, took heed of Christmas in an order to his offshore garrisons. He instructed them not to retaliate against Communist Chinese shelling Christmas Day. Dec. 25 is odd-numbered and the Reds lately have been bombarding the Quemoys on those days while abstaining on the even-numbered.

Flames Trap Some Victims In Wreckage

12 Persons Injured In Fiery Collision Near Pulaski, Tenn.

PULASKI, Tenn. (AP)—A Greyhound bus, passing a truck on a slick highway in the fog, crashed head-on into another truck late Tuesday and burst into flames. The sheriff's office said at least seven persons were killed.

The wreck occurred seven miles south of this south-central Tennessee town on U.S. 31.

Attendants at Giles County Hospital said 12 persons were injured, one seriously.

The bus and truck went over a small embankment and turned over, spilling dead and injured passengers along the highway.

The bus was bound from Birmingham to Louisville.

Bus Driver Killed

Highway patrolmen said the bus was passing a northbound trailer-truck on a hill when it met the southbound truck head-on shortly after 5 p.m. (CST)

All available ambulances, hearses and fire trucks were dispatched to the scene.

Many of the bodies were charred beyond recognition, John Stephens of radio station WKSR, said.

The bus driver was among the dead. The driver of the truck was seriously injured.

Jack Blackman, administrator of Giles County Hospital here, said a dozen persons were hospitalized. He said one was in critical condition. Many suffered broken bones and lacerations, he added.

Victims Scattered On Highway

The Highway Patrol said first word of the accident was received shortly after 5 p.m. when the Giles County sheriff's office radioed for fire extinguishers.

Pulaski is about 80 miles southwest of Nashville, on the main highway route to Birmingham.

"It's something you never want to see two times," said Charles Tucker, an ambulance driver. "Bodies were lying around, scattered up and down the highway."

He said the right side of the bus appeared to have struck the truck.

Cost Of Living, Earnings Reach Record Levels

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs and worker earnings both climbed to peak levels last month.

The government reported Tuesday its consumer price index rose two-tenths of one per cent in November to equal the record high set last July. The index reached 123.9 per cent of the 1947-49 base.

Living costs last month were nearly two per cent higher than November a year ago. The major cause of the rise was a spurt in sales of higher priced 1959 model automobiles.

In reporting this, the Labor Department also disclosed that factory workers' after-tax earnings set a record in November.

The new living-cost hike means a penny-an-hour pay boost for an estimated one million workers — mainly in the steel, meat packing and aluminum industries. Their pay is geared to the government index.

In Pittsburgh, President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers Union said the higher living costs in the face of continued major unemployment proves "that wages consistently have been chasing prices."

He said the union would have preferred to see full employment recovery rather than receive the living-cost pay adjustment.

The bureau said spendable earnings of factory production workers —the government's monthly spot checks on worker earnings—rose to records of $78.41 a week for the worker with three dependents. It reached $70.93 for the single worker.

This is about $1.30 a week higher than in October and about $3 higher than in November a year ago. The prior records were $77.43 and $69.97, respectively, in September.

Fatal Yule Party

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—Four children were killed and nine hurt Tuesday in the collapse of a platform at a school where Mrs. Luis Somoza, wife of the president, was presiding at a school Christmas party. Those killed and most of those injured had crawled underneath the platform to get a better view of the festivities.

18 Buried Alive In Cave Collapse

BRUSSELS (UPI) — An underground grotto collapsed suddenly Tuesday while 150 Belgian men, women and children were gathering mushrooms inside the cave for Christmas dinner tables. Eighteen persons were buried alive and hope was nearly abandoned for them.

Officials said 12 other villagers were seriously injured. The cave-in tragedy at the village of Zichen - Zussen - Bolder on the Dutch frontier also inflicted cuts and bruises on dozens of other mushroom pickers.

Belgian and Dutch rescue teams rushed to the scene and struggled to reach victims buried under tons of rock and debris.

By nightfall, however, only the crushed body of an 8-year-old girl had been recovered. A police spokesman said "it would be a miracle" if any of the buried villagers were alive.

The disaster struck in an abandoned quarry cut into the side of a hill and now used for a commercial mushroom - growing enterprise.

4 Die In Blast At Crash Scene

BROWNFIELD, Tex. (AP)—A devastating eruption of jagged steel and flaming gas swept through massed spectators at a traffic accident scene Monday night. The explosion and fire killed four men, and hospitals in this area on Tuesday counted possibly 200 injured.

A collision of a pickup truck and a tank truck carrying bottled gas triggered the tragedy.

The gas truck caught fire, drawing the crowd. Then it exploded.

The dead were Reuben Johnson, 50, Lubbock, driver of the truck which exploded; Wayland Parker, 45, Brownfield farmer and volunterr fireman; Jim Cousineau, 45, Brownfield electrical engineer and fire marshal; and J. B. Ray, a farmer.

About 20 firemen were battling the blaze, surrounded by a small group of spectators, when the explosion occurred.

The explosion blew debris 250 to 300 yards, and its concussion shattered windows a mile away in this small city of 7,000 in west Texas.

Only Few Areas To Get Yule Snow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Weather Bureau Tuesday predicted fair to partly cloudy skies and normal temperatures for most of the nation on Christmas Day. Only a few scattered areas can expect snow.

The bureau said it would be warmer than usual for this time of year in the central and northern plains states. About normal temperatures, or maybe a little colder, were forecast for the Atlantic states.

The bureau said light snow or flurries would drift across the Great Lakes region, some rain may fall near the Florida-Georgia border and there is chance for rain or snow in Oklahoma and Missouri.

DeGaulle Plans U.S. Visit Early In 1959

A De Gaulle press spokesman insisted, however, no decision has been made.

Priest Receives Russian Visa To Enter Moscow

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The Rev. Louis A. Dion, French-ordained priest who has been trying to get into Russia for three years, received permission from the Soviets Tuesday to enter Moscow to attend the siritual needs of Roman Catholics in its foreign colony.

The Very Rev. Armand H. Desautels, resident of Assumption College where Father Dion is registrat, announced the visa had arrived from the Soviet Union and that the State Department had given its approval.

Father Dion, 46, and a native of Worcester, has been trying to obtain a visa since 1955 when the Russians expelled the Rev. Georges L. Bissonette of Central Falls, R. I., a fellow member of the Assumptionist Order, who had been in Moscow since 1953.

Before Father Bissonette was ordered out of Russia his church, Louis de Francais, was closed. He said mass in a chapel in his apartment.

Father Dion said he expects to take over Father Bissonette's apartment and probably will have an altar there also.

"I am very happy the visa has finally come through after three years of waiting," Father Dion said.

He plans to fly to Moscow about mid-January. He must use the visa before Jan. 31.

Billfold Returned After Eight Years

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — A shy Santa Claus gave Mrs. Gayne Robinson the billfold she's wanted for eight years.

It still held her first $8 paycheck from an insurance firm. She was Miss Shirley Nary then. She lost the billfold before she had a chance to cash the check.

The billfold was returned Tuesday to her mother, Mrs. James Nary. The finder said he'd tried all this time to locate the owner. He didn't give his name.

Weather Hampers Search For Plane

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI)—Bad weather and poor visibility Tuesday hampered the search for an Air Force C54 transport missing since Monday afternoon with 15 persons aboard.

The plane was en route from Elmendorf Air Force Base to the Air Force installation at Shemya in the Aleutian Islands when it disappeared from radarscope 47 minutes later.

The plane, which had 15 hours of fuel aboard when it took off, was on a routine supply mission. It was attached to the Shemya air installation.

The 71st Air Rescue Squadron began a search Monday but had weather and darkness halt it until Tuesday morning when three planes took off to resume the hunt.

American Airlines Accepts Peace Plan

Truce In Crippling Strike Up To Pilots

By The Associated Press

American Airlines accepted a federal peace pact Tuesday in a half-way step toward ending a crippling strike of its pilots. That left it up to the pilots, who had no immediate comment on whether they would settle on the terms proposed.

The four-day American strike, coupled with a month-long strike against Eastern Airlines, has grounded a third of the nation's airliners during the peak travel period of the year.

The Federal Mediation Board peace proposal covered a variety of contract issues, including wages, flight hours, sick leave and vacations. The board asked that, if it is accepted by both sides, the pilots return immediately to their cockpits.

American, in accepting the proposals, said they would make its pilots the highest paid in the domestic airlines industry.

Meanwhile, Christmas travel moved toward its annual peak with other carriers taking up much of the slack caused by the strike against American and Eastern, two of the nation's biggest airlines.

More than 60,000 passengers were bumped from Tuesday's travel schedule by the twin strikes. But relatively few were stranded.

Travel to Florida was snarled the worst, since Eastern is the main link between that winter playground and the populous winter-beset cities of the North. The tourist trade loss to Miami alone was mounting at the rate of a million dollars a day.

Elsewhere, however, the travel picture was brighter as hundreds of thousands of Americans headed for Yuletide rendezvous with loved ones.

Airline upon airline added extra flights. Railroads threw in extra trains and innumerable extra coaches. Bus schedules were stepped up to a peak for the year.

United Air Lines, second only to American in number of passenger miles flown, reported an alltime high traffic volume, about 6 per cent above last years'.

Family Broke, Rides Boxcar

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (AP) — A blonde 4-year-old girl and her mother and father were found shivering in a boxcar Tuesday in the Illinois Central Railroad yards.

They were riding a freight train from Chicago in the hope of reaching the homes of relatives in Paris, Tenn., for Christmas.

Little Betty Ann Cook's father, George, 32, and her mother, Mary Sue, told railroad employes they were broke and hungry.

Tom Evans, train conductor, found them huddled in the box car when the train stopped at nearby Bluford.

He took them to the yard office to get warm. In the next hour, railroad employes collected enough money to buy the family bus tickets to Paris and $5 extra for food.

Evans and yardmaster Jack L. Simmons treated the family to breakfast at a Bluford hotel before they departed.

"It scares you to be broke in the big city a long way from home and know your little girl may go hungry," Cook told a newsman.

"We just had to get home and the only way was a freight train. I didn't have a nickel in my pocket."

Cook said the family's troubles started a week ago when a pickpocket on a Chicago streetcar took his billfold containing $100.

Reds, Nationalists Fight Artillery Duel

TAIPEI (AP) — The defenders of the Quemoy Islands and the Chinese Communists Tuesday fought one of the heaviest artillery duels in two months.

The Communists warmed up slowly and then let loose with a fierce bombardment at noon. From midnight to midday, the Reds lobbed over only 27 shells. By nightfall the count rose to 4,057.

The Nationalists, recently armed with eight-inch howitzers, struck back spiritedly, a Defense Ministry spokesman said.

Ike Banking On Record Income, Profits In 1959

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is banking on record-breaking personal income and business profits to produce the tax revenues needed to balance his budget for fiscal 1960.

Eisenhower announced Monday he is planning on a budget of around 77 billion dollars for that year—which begins next July 1.

His announcement left some federal money experts skeptical that the government actually will climb out of the red ink.

Besides the fact that Congress is unlikely to go along with all the spending cuts he wants, the Presidents' program calls for a sharp reversal of form in Washington.

It involves a slash of around three billion dollars from this year's probable spending total in the face of a rising cost trend, and an increase of about nine billions from the estimate of revenues for this 1959 fiscal year which ends June 30.

High administration officials insist, however, that Eisenhower's estimates are reasonable. They cited the last instance of an economic rebound from a recession in arguing that his revenue guess is not overly optimistic.

In fiscal 1956, they pointed out, a rising tide of personal income and record business earnings boosted budget receipts more than nine billion dollars. Part of this revenue gain was hidden by a shift in the deadline for corporate tax payments, but it occurred nevertheless, and officials believe a similar upsurge is developing.

In 1956, corporate profits before taxes reached a record 45½ billion dollars. It is widely predicted they will do as well or better next year. If they do, with the government taking away half of the earnings, corporation taxes will supply at least half the needed nine billions of additional revenue.

A rise in tax collections is already visible. In September the administration estimated this fiscal year's revenues at 67 billion dollars. Officials now say the total will be 68 billions or more by the fiscal year end.

Chiang Hints He May Bow Out As President In 1960

TAIPEI (AP)—Chiang Kai-shek threw out a hint Tuesday he may not run again for president of Nationalist China.

The 72-year-old generalissimo, whose present second term does not expire until May 19, 1960, is bound to meet pressure from some supporters to stay on as chief of state.

The aging anti-Communist Chinese leader is susceptible to changing his mind—as he did in 1954 on accepting renomination after first refusing it.

There is no suggestion, at any rate, that he intends to give up his job as director of the ruling Kuomintang party.

Chiang's hint that he may step down as president came in a speech in which he opposed amending the present constitution —declaring it is "one of the weapons we are using in waging war against the Communists."

The only article for which there is agitation for amendment is that setting the term of the president and vice president. Vague and open to varying interpretations, it reads:

"The term of office of the president and vice president shall be six years. They may be elected for a second term."

There is no specific mention of a third term and lawmakers of the National Assembly who want Chiang to remain say he is not ruled out from running again. Others hold a third term is forbidden.

Peace, Vigilance Urged By Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII urged world peace in his first Christmas message but called for vigilance against atheistic communism.

Like the Tower of Babel, he suggested, the bastions of world communism will crumble.

The 77-year-old leader of the world's half-billion Roman Catholics, after speaking of the struggle of his church behind the Iron Curtain, said: "Let our gestures, befitting men of good faith, contain nothing of war or violence. But it is necessary to be vigilant in the night of lengthening shadows, to be aware of the insidiousness of those who are the enemies of God."

His 2,500-word address Tuesday was delivered in Italian in response to Christmas greetings from the College of Cardinals. It was being beamed by the Vatican radio around the world in 30 languages through Wednesday. Transmissions were also aimed at countries behind the Iron Curtain.

The Pope solemnly said, in an obvious reference to the Communist countries, that "in many parts of the world there is no ear" for his Christmas message inviting the world to peace and Christian unity.

In those areas, he said, the most sacred Christian ideas "have been choked and extinguished."

Communist China was the only Red-ruled country the Pope mentioned by name. He recalled that he had devoted much of a speech at a consistory a week ago to the plight of the Church of the Chinese mainland. The situation there, he emphasized today, is "most serious."

Marine Recruits Must Sign Up For Four Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Young men enlisting in the Marine Corps after New Year's Day must sign up for four-year terms.

Marine Corps headquarters said Tuesday a new recruiting plan will eliminate three-year enlistments.

Marines already in service and who want to sign on for additional tours of duty may continue to reenlist for two, three, four or six years.

The corps said about 85 per cent of its recruits are already signing for four-year terms.

The dead were Reuben Johnson, 50, Lubbock, driver of the truck which exploded; Wayland Parker, 45, Brownfield farmer and volunterr fireman; Jim Cousineau, 45, Brownfield electrical engineer and fire marshal; and J. B. Ray, a farmer.

About 20 firemen were battling the blaze, surrounded by a small group of spectators, when the explosion occurred.

The explosion blew debris 250 to 300 yards, and its concussion shattered windows a mile away in this small city of 7,000 in west Texas.

Only Few Areas To Get Yule Snow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Weather Bureau Tuesday predicted fair to partly cloudy skies and normal temperatures for most of the nation on Christmas Day. Only a few scattered areas can expect snow.

The bureau said it would be warmer than usual for this time of year in the central and northern plains states. About normal temperatures, or maybe a little colder, were forecast for the Atlantic states.

The bureau said light snow or flurries would drift across the Great Lakes region, some rain may fall near the Florida-Georgia border and there is chance for rain or snow in Oklahoma and Missouri.

DeGaulle Plans U.S. Visit Early In 1959

PARIS (AP) — Premier de Gaulle has begun planning a trip to the United States early next year, officials in a position to know said Tuesday.

A De Gaulle press spokesman insisted, however, no decision has been made.

Billfold Returned After Eight Years

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — A shy Santa Claus gave Mrs. Gayne Robinson the billfold she's wanted for eight years.

It still held her first $8 paycheck from an insurance firm. She was Miss Shirley Nary then. She lost the billfold before she had a chance to cash the check.

The billfold was returned Tuesday to her mother, Mrs. James Nary. The finder said he'd tried all this time to locate the owner. He didn't give his name.

Weather Hampers Search For Plane

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI)—Bad weather and poor visibility Tuesday hampered the search for an Air Force C54 transport missing since Monday afternoon with 15 persons aboard.

The plane was en route from Elmendorf Air Force Base to the Air Force installation at Shemya in the Aleutian Islands when it disappeared from radarscope 47 minutes later.

The plane, which had 15 hours of fuel aboard when it took off, was on a routine supply mission. It was attached to the Shemya air installation.

The 71st Air Rescue Squadron began a search Monday but had weather and darkness halt it until Tuesday morning when three planes took off to resume the hunt.

Bad Investment

CHICAGO (AP) — The Police Department paid Tuesday four-cents postage due on an envelope which contained this little note: "To all cops I hate you."

Priest Receives Russian Visa To Enter Moscow

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The Rev. Louis A. Dion, French-ordained priest who has been trying to get into Russia for three years, received permission from the Soviets Tuesday to enter Moscow to attend the siritual needs of Roman Catholics in its foreign colony.

The Very Rev. Armand H. Desautels, resident of Assumption College where Father Dion is registrat, announced the visa had arrived from the Soviet Union and that the State Department had given its approval.

Father Dion, 46, and a native of Worcester, has been trying to obtain a visa since 1955 when the Russians expelled the Rev. Georges L. Bissonette of Central Falls, R. I., a fellow member of the Assumptionist Order, who had been in Moscow since 1953.

Before Father Bissonette was ordered out of Russia his church, Louis de Francais, was closed. He said mass in a chapel in his apartment.

Father Dion said he expects to take over Father Bissonette's apartment and probably will have an altar there also.

"I am very happy the visa has finally come through after three years of waiting," Father Dion said.

He plans to fly to Moscow about mid-January. He must use the visa before Jan. 31.

American Airlines Accepts Peace Plan

Truce In Crippling Strike Up To Pilots

By The Associated Press

American Airlines accepted a federal peace pact Tuesday in a half-way step toward ending a crippling strike of its pilots. That left it up to the pilots, who had no immediate comment on whether they would settle on the terms proposed.

The four-day American strike, coupled with a month-long strike against Eastern Airlines, has grounded a third of the nation's airliners during the peak travel period of the year.

The Federal Mediation Board peace proposal covered a variety of contract issues, including wages, flight hours, sick leave and vacations. The board asked that, if it is accepted by both sides, the pilots return immediately to their cockpits.

American, in accepting the proposals, said they would make its pilots the highest paid in the domestic airlines industry.

Meanwhile, Christmas travel moved toward its annual peak with other carriers taking up much of the slack caused by the strike against American and Eastern, two of the nation's biggest airlines.

More than 60,000 passengers were bumped from Tuesday's travel schedule by the twin strikes. But relatively few were stranded.

Travel to Florida was snarled the worst, since Eastern is the main link between that winter playground and the populous winter-beset cities of the North. The tourist trade loss to Miami alone was mounting at the rate of a million dollars a day.

Elsewhere, however, the travel picture was brighter as hundreds of thousands of Americans headed for Yuletide rendezvous with loved ones.

Airline upon airline added extra flights. Railroads threw in extra trains and innumerable extra coaches. Bus schedules were stepped up to a peak for the year.

United Air Lines, second only to American in number of passenger miles flown, reported an alltime high traffic volume, about 6 per cent above last years'.

Family Broke, Rides Boxcar

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (AP) — A blonde 4-year-old girl and her mother and father were found shivering in a boxcar Tuesday in the Illinois Central Railroad yards.

They were riding a freight train from Chicago in the hope of reaching the homes of relatives in Paris, Tenn., for Christmas.

Little Betty Ann Cook's father, George, 32, and her mother, Mary Sue, told railroad employes they were broke and hungry.

Tom Evans, train conductor, found them huddled in the box car when the train stopped at nearby Bluford.

He took them to the yard office to get warm. In the next hour, railroad employes collected enough money to buy the family bus tickets to Paris and $5 extra for food.

Evans and yardmaster Jack L. Simmons treated the family to breakfast at a Bluford hotel before they departed.

"It scares you to be broke in the big city a long way from home and know your little girl may go hungry," Cook told a newsman.

"We just had to get home and the only way was a freight train. I didn't have a nickel in my pocket."

Cook said the family's troubles started a week ago when a pickpocket on a Chicago streetcar took his billfold containing $100.

Reds, Nationalists Fight Artillery Duel

TAIPEI (AP) — The defenders of the Quemoy Islands and the Chinese Communists Tuesday fought one of the heaviest artillery duels in two months.

The Communists warmed up slowly and then let loose with a fierce bombardment at noon. From midnight to midday, the Reds lobbed over only 27 shells. By nightfall the count rose to 4,057.

The Nationalists, recently armed with eight-inch howitzers, struck back spiritedly, a Defense Ministry spokesman said.

Ike Banking On Record Income, Profits In 1959

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is banking on record-breaking personal income and business profits to produce the tax revenues needed to balance his budget for fiscal 1960.

Eisenhower announced Monday he is planning on a budget of around 77 billion dollars for that year—which begins next July 1.

His announcement left some federal money experts skeptical that the government actually will climb out of the red ink.

Besides the fact that Congress is unlikely to go along with all the spending cuts he wants, the Presidents' program calls for a sharp reversal of form in Washington.

It involves a slash of around three billion dollars from this year's probable spending total in the face of a rising cost trend, and an increase of about nine billions from the estimate of revenues for this 1959 fiscal year which ends June 30.

High administration officials insist, however, that Eisenhower's estimates are reasonable. They cited the last instance of an economic rebound from a recession in arguing that his revenue guess is not overly optimistic.

In fiscal 1956, they pointed out, a rising tide of personal income and record business earnings boosted budget receipts more than nine billion dollars. Part of this revenue gain was hidden by a shift in the deadline for corporate tax payments, but it occurred nevertheless, and officials believe a similar upsurge is developing.

In 1956, corporate profits before taxes reached a record 45½ billion dollars. It is widely predicted they will do as well or better next year. If they do, with the government taking away half of the earnings, corporation taxes will supply at least half the needed nine billions of additional revenue.

A rise in tax collections is already visible. In September the administration estimated this fiscal year's revenues at 67 billion dollars. Officials now say the total will be 68 billions or more by the fiscal year end.

Chiang Hints He May Bow Out As President In 1960

TAIPEI (AP)—Chiang Kai-shek threw out a hint Tuesday he may not run again for president of Nationalist China.

The 72-year-old generalissimo, whose present second term does not expire until May 19, 1960, is bound to meet pressure from some supporters to stay on as chief of state.

The aging anti-Communist Chinese leader is susceptible to changing his mind—as he did in 1954 on accepting renomination after first refusing it.

There is no suggestion, at any rate, that he intends to give up his job as director of the ruling Kuomintang party.

Chiang's hint that he may step down as president came in a speech in which he opposed amending the present constitution —declaring it is "one of the weapons we are using in waging war against the Communists."

The only article for which there is agitation for amendment is that setting the term of the president and vice president. Vague and open to varying interpretations, it reads:

"The term of office of the president and vice president shall be six years. They may be elected for a second term."

There is no specific mention of a third term and lawmakers of the National Assembly who want Chiang to remain say he is not ruled out from running again. Others hold a third term is forbidden.

Peace, Vigilance Urged By Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII urged world peace in his first Christmas message but called for vigilance against atheistic communism.

Like the Tower of Babel, he suggested, the bastions of world communism will crumble.

The 77-year-old leader of the world's half-billion Roman Catholics, after speaking of the struggle of his church behind the Iron Curtain, said: "Let our gestures, befitting men of good faith, contain nothing of war or violence. But it is necessary to be vigilant in the night of lengthening shadows, to be aware of the insidiousness of those who are the enemies of God."

His 2,500-word address Tuesday was delivered in Italian in response to Christmas greetings from the College of Cardinals. It was being beamed by the Vatican radio around the world in 30 languages through Wednesday. Transmissions were also aimed at countries behind the Iron Curtain.

The Pope solemnly said, in an obvious reference to the Communist countries, that "in many parts of the world there is no ear" for his Christmas message inviting the world to peace and Christian unity.

In those areas, he said, the most sacred Christian ideas "have been choked and extinguished."

Communist China was the only Red-ruled country the Pope mentioned by name. He recalled that he had devoted much of a speech at a consistory a week ago to the plight of the Church of the Chinese mainland. The situation there, he emphasized today, is "most serious."

Marine Recruits Must Sign Up For Four Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Young men enlisting in the Marine Corps after New Year's Day must sign up for four-year terms.

Marine Corps headquarters said Tuesday a new recruiting plan will eliminate three-year enlistments.

Marines already in service and who want to sign on for additional tours of duty may continue to reenlist for two, three, four or six years.

The corps said about 85 per cent of its recruits are already signing for four-year terms.

Legal Lines Drawn On McKeldin Issue

BALTIMORE (AP) —Can Gov. McKeldin run for mayor of Baltimore?

He has filed as a Republican candidate but two separate pieces of legal machinery have been put into motion to find out whether he legally may remain a candidate.

Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert has been asked for an opinion. And a political ally of Democratic Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, a candidate for reelection, has filed suit in Superior Court to prevent the governor from running for mayor.

Francis X. Gallagher, former assistant city solicitor recently elected to the Maryland House of Delegates, filed the "unfriendly" suit, thereby beating backers of Gov. McKeldin to the punch. They had been talking of filing a friendly suit to settle the question the governor is eligible.

Gallagher contends McKeldin cannot quality as a candidate because the Baltimore City Charter requires mayoral candidates be residents of the city for the past 10 years. The State Constitution, on the other hand, requires that the governor be a resident of Annapolis and that's where McKeldin has lived and voted since he first became governor in 1951. The governor has owned a home in Baltimore, however, and this is one of the reasons he insists he is eligible.

Sybert has said he will not give an opinion on the controversial question until his department has had a chance to "check all available law."

Actually, Gallagher's suit probably will preclude Sybert's making any opinion public.

Gallager's suit challenges the Board of Election Supervisors' action in accepting McKeldin's filing. Since the board is a state government body, Sybert will be called on to defend it as the state's chief lawyer.

So the legal lines have been drawn and so have the political lines for what shapes up to be a razzle-dazzle Democratic primary March 3 and, if McKeldin remains in the race, a hotly contested general election May 5.

In addition to McKeldin, Louis Milio has filed for mayor on the Republican ticket. Its' his second try for the post, but he is not expected to offer McKeldin serious opposition if the governor is allowed to run.

On the Democratic side, the situation is less clearcut. Lined up against Mayor D'Alesandro is State's Atty. J. Harold Grady, handpicked candidate of the mayor's Democratic opposition to unseat the veteran politician. Also seeking the Democratic nomination is Francis X. McSweeney, like Milio, not a threat to the mayor or Grady.

Stronger PSC Utility Control Recommended

BALTIMORE (AP) — A special committee of the Maryland Legislative Council proposed Tuesday major changes to give the Public Service Commission stronger control over public utilities.

A full-time, $15,000-a-year commission chairman was one recommendation.

Another called for a separate office of the people's counsel with its own staff and stepped up funds. The people's counsel is the public's watchdog of utilities.

The committee also urged revision of the law to allow for consideration of adequacy of service and other economic factors in determining a fair return for a utility.

In addition, the committee called for a continuing study of the relative funds spent by the utilities and the people's counsel in arguing cases. The committee found that in the last 10 years the largest utilities have spent 10 times more than the people's counsel in arguing cases. It put the utilities figure at $2,000,000, the people's counsel's at $223,000.

The committee said all utility expenses are passed on to the public and that the companies should be prohibited from pasing on more than the amount provided the people's counsel.

The nine-member legislative group, headed by State Sen. Philip Goodman (D-Balto 5th), also called for a study of any possible "collusive" relationships between a regulated utility and unregulated subsidiaries "which result in inflated cost to the general public."

The committee suggested a utility could avoid the law by forming an unregulated company to sell goods and services to it at high profits.

Liz Taylor, Ford Box Office Stars

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Glen Ford and Elizabeth Taylor headed the list Tuesday of the top moneymaking movie stars, based on a poll that shows public taste switching from outdoor action to sex and comedy.

For the first time in years, such tall-in-the-saddle stars as John Wayne and Gary Cooper are missing from the list.

In their customary place were such sex appeal stars as Brigitte Bardot, Frank Sinatra, and Yul Brynner.

For Miss Bardot, who ranked seventh, the honor was unique as she has yet to make an American film.

Newspaper Strike Talks Make Headway

NEW YORK (UPI) — A federal mediator announced Tuesday night that progress had been made toward settlement of New York City's 14-day newspaper strike but that a number of substantial problems were left to be resolved.

Walter Maggiolo, director of the mediation division of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, made the announcement after day-long meetings with representatives of the Publishers Association of New York and the Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union.

He said both sides had agreed to meet again at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday for further efforts to end the newspaper blackout in the nation's largest city.

Va. Gov. Almond Hopes Compact Will Be Ratified

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. Tuesday received a copy of the new Potomac River Compact and expressed the hope it will be ratified by the Virginia and Maryland Legislatures.

Almond and Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland released the text of the compact simultaneously. Provisions of the fishing agreement were made public soon after the final approval and signing of the document by commissioners of the two states at a meeting Saturday at Mt. Vernon.

The compact, the outgrowth of a pending suit in which Virginia challenged Maryland's right to abrogate the Potomac River Compact of 1785, establishes a joint six-member commission with full regulatory powers to control fishing in the Potomac. The suit would become moot with ratification of the new compact.

In accepting a copy of the compact, Almond said "we certainly approve it here in Virginia." He expressed his appreciation to the Maryland governor, commissioners of the two states, Atty. Gen. A. S. Harrison Jr. and his staff and John B. Boatwright Jr., state director of statutory research and drafting.

In discussing the compact with newsmen, Almond said it will be submitted to the Maryland Legislature which meets next year and to the Virginia General Assembly at its next regular or special session.

After ratification by the two state legislatures the compact would have to be approved by Congress, but Almond said "We anticipate no difficulty there."

Slain Woman's Husband Vanishes

VENTURA, Calif. (UPI) —The disappearance of Frank Duncan added a new mystery Tuesday to the bizarre "for hire" killing of his pregnant wife.

Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson said his agents were searching for Duncan, 29, prominent Santa Barbara attorney, whose devoted mother is held on suspicion of hiring two men to kill Olga Duncan and bury her body in a shallow grave near here.

Gustafson said Duncan, who hasn't been seen since early Monday would be subpenaed as a witness before the Ventura County Grand Jury which on Friday will be asked to indict Elizabeth Ann Duncan, 54, Augustine Baldonado, 25, and Luis Moya, 22, for murder.

The grandmotherly - appearing Elizabeth Duncan "denies vehemently" any knowledge of the brutal slaying, veteran criminal lawyer S. Ward Sullivan said.

Two German Youths Held As Fugitives

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — Two German youths were being held Tuesday for the arrival of fugitive warrants from Pennsylvania state police at Pittsburgh.

The two were arrested about noon Monday on a speeding charge. They were identified as Christian Warncke, 17, the driver, and his brother, Hans, 21, both of Pittsburgh.

State Police Cpl. Guy Brown said in checking out the car Warncke was driving, they found it was reported stolen from the Hoebler Chevrolet Co. Dec. 18. And a loaded 30-30 rifle, money bags with $115 in silver and stolen Pennsylvania tags were found hidden under the seat.

Meanwhile, state police recived a call from the bus station here, saying witnesses had seen a young man get in a car belonging to Jack Bowers, operator of the bus station, and drive off.

The car was stopped an hour later. Troopers said Hans Warncke was driving. He was charged with auto theft and locked up.

Youth, 17, Pleads Guilty To Arson

BALTIMORE (AP) — A 17-year-old youth who told police he enjoyed the sound of fire engines was ordered held for grand jury action Tuesday after pleading guilty to two charges of arson.

Theodore Thompson was arrested Monday night at his West Baltimore home after he reported a fire in an unoccupied third-floor apartment near his residence.

Firemen who put out the minor blaze became suspicious because of previous reports of fires of unexplained origin by the same youth.

In addition to this fire, Thompson was charged with setting fire to a truck Nov. 14.

The committee said all utility expenses are passed on to the public and that the companies should be prohibited from pasing on more than the amount provided the people's counsel.

The nine-member legislative group, headed by State Sen. Philip Goodman (D-Balto 5th), also called for a study of any possible "collusive" relationships between a regulated utility and unregulated subsidiaries "which result in inflated cost to the general public."

The committee suggested a utility could avoid the law by forming an unregulated company to sell goods and services to it at high profits.

Liz Taylor, Ford Box Office Stars

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Glen Ford and Elizabeth Taylor headed the list Tuesday of the top moneymaking movie stars, based on a poll that shows public taste switching from outdoor action to sex and comedy.

For the first time in years, such tall-in-the-saddle stars as John Wayne and Gary Cooper are missing from the list.

In their customary place were such sex appeal stars as Brigitte Bardot, Frank Sinatra, and Yul Brynner.

For Miss Bardot, who ranked seventh, the honor was unique as she has yet to make an American film.

Newspaper Strike Talks Make Headway

NEW YORK (UPI) — A federal mediator announced Tuesday night that progress had been made toward settlement of New York City's 14-day newspaper strike but that a number of substantial problems were left to be resolved.

Walter Maggiolo, director of the mediation division of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, made the announcement after day-long meetings with representatives of the Publishers Association of New York and the Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union.

He said both sides had agreed to meet again at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday for further efforts to end the newspaper blackout in the nation's largest city.

Va. Gov. Almond Hopes Compact Will Be Ratified

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. Tuesday received a copy of the new Potomac River Compact and expressed the hope it will be ratified by the Virginia and Maryland Legislatures.

Almond and Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland released the text of the compact simultaneously. Provisions of the fishing agreement were made public soon after the final approval and signing of the document by commissioners of the two states at a meeting Saturday at Mt. Vernon.

The compact, the outgrowth of a pending suit in which Virginia challenged Maryland's right to abrogate the Potomac River Compact of 1785, establishes a joint six-member commission with full regulatory powers to control fishing in the Potomac. The suit would become moot with ratification of the new compact.

In accepting a copy of the compact, Almond said "we certainly approve it here in Virginia." He expressed his appreciation to the Maryland governor, commissioners of the two states, Atty. Gen. A. S. Harrison Jr. and his staff and John B. Boatwright Jr., state director of statutory research and drafting.

In discussing the compact with newsmen, Almond said it will be submitted to the Maryland Legislature which meets next year and to the Virginia General Assembly at its next regular or special session.

After ratification by the two state legislatures the compact would have to be approved by Congress, but Almond said "We anticipate no difficulty there."

Slain Woman's Husband Vanishes

VENTURA, Calif. (UPI) —The disappearance of Frank Duncan added a new mystery Tuesday to the bizarre "for hire" killing of his pregnant wife.

Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson said his agents were searching for Duncan, 29, prominent Santa Barbara attorney, whose devoted mother is held on suspicion of hiring two men to kill Olga Duncan and bury her body in a shallow grave near here.

Gustafson said Duncan, who hasn't been seen since early Monday would be subpenaed as a witness before the Ventura County Grand Jury which on Friday will be asked to indict Elizabeth Ann Duncan, 34, Augustine Baldonado, 25, and Luis Moya, 22, for murder.

The grandmotherly - appearing Elizabeth Duncan "denies vehemently" any knowledge of the brutal slaying, veteran criminal lawyer S. Ward Sullivan said.

Two German Youths Held As Fugitives

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — Two German youths were being held Tuesday for the arrival of fugitive warrants from Pennsylvania state police at Pittsburgh.

The two were arrested about noon Monday on a speeding charge. They were identified as Christian Warncke, 17, the driver, and his brother, Hans, 21, both of Pittsburgh.

State Police Cpl. Guy Brown said in checking out the car Warncke was driving, they found it was reported stolen from the Hoebler Chevrolet Co. Dec. 18. And a loaded 30-30 rifle, money bags with $115 in silver and stolen Pennsylvania tags were found hidden under the seat.

Meanwhile, state police recived a call from the bus station here, saying witnesses had seen a young man get in a car belonging to Jack Bowers, operator of the bus station, and drive off.

The car was stopped an hour later. Troopers said Hans Warncke was driving. He was charged with auto theft and locked up.

Youth, 17, Pleads Guilty To Arson

BALTIMORE (AP) — A 17-year-old youth who told police he enjoyed the sound of fire engines was ordered held for grand jury action Tuesday after pleading guilty to two charges of arson.

Theodore Thompson was arrested Monday night at his West Baltimore home after he reported a fire in an unoccupied third-floor apartment near his residence.

Firemen who put out the minor blaze became suspicious because of previous reports of fires of unexplained origin by the same youth.

Clergymen Stress Worship Importance

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

For several years, churches have been imploring Americans to "keep Christ in Christmas."

Many Christian families are ready, even eager, to cooperate. But how? What can one family do to rescue the birthday of Christ from commercialization . . . to make its real significance clear to children.

United Press International put the question to some of the nation's leading clergymen. Their answers, as could be expected, varied widely. But there were several common themes.

Virtually all of them emphasized the importance of worship—not only attendance at church services, but worship in the home, with the whole family taking part.

"Read the Christmas story from the Bible on Christmas Eve," counselled the very Rev. Francis B. Sayre, dean of Washington Cathedral.

"Let the father of the family explain to the children in simple words the meaning of Christmas," said the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, Episcopal bishop of California.

Catholic Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel of New Orleans recommended "the recitation of the Rosary every evening in the family circle, and the preparation of a beautiful crib to be unveiled in every home on Christmas Eve."

Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of Washington said Christmas should be treated as "a day of thought" as well as a day of merriment. "Begin the day with the family singing a Christmas carol . . . then let each individual meditate upon the significance of the first Christmas gift, which was God's gift of his Son."

Most of the clergymen agreed that exchanging gifts is an appropriate Christmas custom—if it is done in the right spirit. But they deplored the giving of expensive gifts for business reasons, for purely social motives, or for show.

"It would be better to stop the custom altogether than to let Christmas giving so degenerate," said Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, stated clerk of the United Presbyterian Church.

Several ministers urged that Santa Claus be de-emphasized.

The Rev. John T. Tavlarides of the Greek Orthodox Cathedral of St. Sophia, Washington, said Santa Claus has been so thoroughly "identified with commercialism" that his symbolic value has been lost.

Msgr. Irving A. Leblanc, director of the Family Life Bureau of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, suggested Santa Claus be quietly replaced by the real-life Saint Nicholas whose name, pronounced "sinter klaas" by early Dutch immigrants to America, gradually evolved into the modern Santa Claus."

Clergymen Stress Worship Importance

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

For several years, churches have been imploring Americans to "keep Christ in Christmas."

Many Christian families are ready, even eager, to cooperate. But how? What can one family do to rescue the birthday of Christ from commercialization . . . to make its real significance clear to children.

United Press International put the question to some of the nation's leading clergymen. Their answers, as could be expected, varied widely. But there were several common themes.

Virtually all of them emphasized the importance of worship—not only attendance at church services, but worship in the home, with the whole family taking part.

"Read the Christmas story from the Bible on Christmas Eve," counselled the very Rev. Francis B. Sayre, dean of Washington Cathedral.

"Let the father of the family explain to the children in simple words the meaning of Christmas," said the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, Episcopal bishop of California.

Catholic Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel of New Orleans recommended "the recitation of the Rosary every evening in the family circle, and the preparation of a beautiful crib to be unveiled in every home on Christmas Eve."

Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of Washington said Christmas should be treated as "a day of thought" as well as a day of merriment. "Begin the day with the family singing a Christmas carol . . . then let each individual meditate upon the significance of the first Christmas gift, which was God's gift of his Son."

Most of the clergymen agreed that exchanging gifts is an appropriate Christmas custom—if it is done in the right spirit. But they deplored the giving of expensive gifts for business reasons, for purely social motives, or for show.

"It would be better to stop the custom altogether than to let Christmas giving so degenerate," said Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, stated clerk of the United Presbyterian Church.

Several ministers urged that Santa Claus be de-emphasized.

The Rev. John T. Tavlarides of the Greek Orthodox Cathedral of St. Sophia, Washington, said Santa Claus has been so thoroughly "identified with commercialism" that his symbolic value has been lost.

Msgr. Irving A. Leblanc, director of the Family Life Bureau of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, suggested Santa Claus be quietly replaced by the real-life Saint Nicholas whose name, pronounced "sinter klaas" by early Dutch immigrants to America, gradually evolved into the modern Santa Claus."

$108 Million W.Va. Budget Gains Approval

Public Works Board Approves Measure

By BILL BARRETT
United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A $108,367,195 general revenue operating budget for the state government for the 1959-60 fiscal year — in balance with estimated revenue — was adopted Tuesday by the State Board of Public Works.

It was $1,160,500 less than the original recommendation made earlier this month by State Finance Commissioner George B. Vieweg. The difference was almost the amount — $1,262,812 — set aside in escrow as the anticipated tax collections, in excess of expenditures, for the property appraisal and revaluation program adopted by the 1958 Legislature.

The document was changed only in seven places — four accounts, including West Virginia University, were reduced and three others were increased. Reductions totaled $1,500,760 and increases only $213,260.

The major cut was in state aid to schools — $1,232,960 — obtained by elimination of $843,500 in the growth factor — increased enrollment — of the minimum foundation program and a transfer of $389,460 from the general school fund to the general revenue fund.

The Legislature will be asked to restore all of the cutbacks, if it provides sufficient revenue either through cuts in appropriations recommended for other

Request Denied For Constable In Oldtown

Magistrate Dayton Lewis of Oldtown appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday to request the appointment of a constable for that area.

Commissioner John J. Rowan, board president, told Lewis that it was unanimous opinion of the board that no constable is needed at this time. The magistrate became somewhat irritated and said that the situation in the community is bad.

He said that recently a woman called him to say her husband was threatening her with a gun. "I called the State Police and by the time they arrived the man had gone and nothing could be done."

Lewis was asked why he didn't call the sheriff's office. "I have called there but they always say no one is around to answer the call." Commissioner Rowan said that what happened before December 2 is past but from now on the sheriff's office will answer these calls.

The magistrate said that youths from nearby West Virginia drive through the community at fast speeds and also curse and use vulgar language. Lewis cited a case one night recently when children of the town were ice skating on the old C&O canal and a group of young men from the nearby West Virginia area drove them away from the skating area with their taunts and vile language.

$108 Million W.Va. Budget Gains Approval

Public Works Board Approves Measure

By BILL BARRETT
United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A $108,367,195 general revenue operating budget for the state government for the 1959-60 fiscal year — in balance with estimated revenue — was adopted Tuesday by the State Board of Public Works.

It was $1,160,500 less than the original recommendation made earlier this month by State Finance Commissioner George B. Vieweg. The difference was almost the amount — $1,262,812 — set aside in escrow as the anticipated tax collections, in excess of expenditures, for the property appraisal and revaluation program adopted by the 1958 Legislature.

The document was changed only in seven places — four accounts, including West Virginia University, were reduced and three others were increased. Reductions totaled $1,500,760 and increases only $213,260.

The major cut was in state aid to schools — $1,232,960 — obtained by elimination of $843,500 in the growth factor — increased enrollment — of the minimum foundation program and a transfer of $389,460 from the general school fund to the general revenue fund.

The Legislature will be asked to restore all of the cutbacks, if it provides sufficient revenue either through cuts in appropriations recommended for other

Request Denied For Constable In Oldtown

Magistrate Dayton Lewis of Oldtown appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday to request the appointment of a constable for that area.

Commissioner John J. Rowan, board president, told Lewis that it was unanimous opinion of the board that no constable is needed at this time. The magistrate became somewhat irritated and said that the situation in the community is bad.

He said that recently a woman called him to say her husband was threatening her with a gun. "I called the State Police and by the time they arrived the man had gone and nothing could be done."

Lewis was asked why he didn't call the sheriff's office. "I have called there but they always say no one is around to answer the call." Commissioner Rowan said that what happened before December 2 is past but from now on the sheriff's office will answer these calls.

The magistrate said that youths from nearby West Virginia drive through the community at fast speeds and also curse and use vulgar language. Lewis cited a case one night recently when children of the town were ice skating on the old C&O canal and a group of young men from the nearby West Virginia area drove them away from the skating area with their taunts and vile language.

Loan Forms Accepted For Sewage Work

PIEDMONT—Forms for a loan of $7,000 from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency in Philadelphia were accepted at a meeting of Mayor Rodney Baker and Council Monday.

The money to be borrowed is for a preliminary survey for the sewage system and interceptors to connect with the sewage plant at the lower end of the Town of Westernport.

Piedmont was given 60 days to fill out the application forms, beginning last December 6. The survey is to be completed within 270 days. Payment for the loan is not required until work on the project is begun.

The town will sell the bonds to pay for expenses. Council also proposes to charge a sewage fee to water consumers to pay for the cost of the project, but will have to get permission from the Public Service Commission.

The sewage plant is now under construction by the Upper Potomac River Commission for the main use of the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company. Westernport also plans to participate in the project.

Council ordered that a winter policeman's cap be purchased for Officer Robert Mongold.

Per Capita Figures Tangle Statistics

These are the glorious days when practically all the economic statistics show the national economy on the upgrade. However, also on the upgrade is the population. This increases by about two per cent a year, so various growth factors should be corrected by something like this degree to indicate the really significant growth.

For instance, the third quarter of 1958 figure for the gross national product shows it about the same as in 1957, one per cent higher than in 1956, 3½ per cent higher than in 1956. Considering the population increase since these years, the third quarter of 1958 shows recovery working fast toward but not yet quite up to the full prosperity of several years ago.

A similar story is told by the industrial production figure for October. This was at about the same rate as for the year 1955, which means it was a little lower on a per capita basis. Economic recovery was on its way but far from complete.

As for automobile production in an expanding economy, former General Motors president Harlow H. Curtice has put it at 5.7 million cars for 1959. This would be about the same as in 1956 and a little higher than in 1954, both considered good years in the industry. But compared to the population the Curtice-predicted 1959 output would be six per cent below the 1954 output.

On the other hand, just as the per capita factor makes optimistic figures seem a little less rosy, it makes pessimistic figures seem a little less gloomy. The public debt, now around $283 billion, is 2 per cent higher than its World War II high of $278 billion in February 1946, yet on a per capita basis is 17 per cent lower.

A budget of $77 billion for fiscal 1960 would be nearly twice as high as the budget of fiscal 1950, but only two-thirds as high per capita. Statistical corrections could be made also for the decreasing value of the dollar but, please, let's not go into that one.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Peace On Earth . . .

Each year we sing "Peace on earth . . ." but there is no peace. This we have become accustomed to as we have become accustomed to so much that is evil in the world. We labor and much of the richness of our labor goes into the cost of preparing not to fight or preparing to fight whichever it may turn out to be. Still we hope for peace, but what we really seek are little compromises, peaces that men can make around tables, little peaces, little contracts, a detail here or there, something that can be agreed upon.

Is there not something that all nations can agree upon and that they might write on stone to last forever? Apparently not! Apparently we are not yet sufficiently civilized.

We say that we have attained such marvels as man never heard of before. We have sailed beneath the North Pole in peace and safety. We have tracked the vastness of the South Pole. We are shooting missiles at the moon and, who knows, before long someone will be in one of those missiles to report on the moon. We know so much that our heads are filled with wonders and it is no longer easy just to get an education in the simple cultures of man. We have moved beyond the cultures of man to the excesses of man's mental capacity which is apparently limitless.

Do you recall that back in 1917, the United States, a simple nation of comparatively happy people, went to war to make the world safe for democracy? It was the Kaiser that we objected to, a quiet sort of fellow who liked to dress up like a character in "The Merry Widow." We made quite a fuss about him and his sons, remnants of medievalism who were much the same as the rest of us. But our bands played "Over There" and their bands played "Deutschland Uber Alles" and we slaughtered each other.

Out of that war rose two great new forces. Both emerged from the lower depths of humanity—the weak, the sordid, the depraved. I personally saw one of these emerge, Bolshevism in Russia, a monstrous concept of man, in its origins even more terrifying than what it has become. The other was Nazism with its prophet, Adolf Hitler.

How often in my youth did I meet Lenins and Trotzkys and Hitlers and Goebbelses—all the worn and abused personalities of the early 20th century who could not live in the world because they had to live alone out of it. It seemed a period for such people. I recall being in Stockholm in Sweden in 1917 and it would seem that all those who found life unbearable were in that city in that year and among them was Comrade Howe, a delightful human being from St. Louis who inherited a bridge and a million dollars but decided that that was evil, so he wore yellow shoes, no socks, the striped trousers of a Prince Albert coat and a kind of flat straw hat called a floater. He lived on hand-outs and his idea was that as a bum he would live as Jesus lived, although he did not know how Jesus lived or why.

Anyhow, it was such a period and I cite one loveable example of a world which was tending to its affairs and paying no attention to the queer ones who were moving among the people. And the queer ones took over. They were hungry and courageous and had nothing to lose and so they took over in whatever country they could. And soon the queer ones were great ones and the queer ones took and they tried to smash our world.

Curiously what resisted were not so much armies and air forces, but a power beyond man himself, a faith in something called a Judaic-Christian culture that had for about 5,000 years built a way of life in the world that, while not perfect, is based on good. This power set up a resistance that the queer ones do not know how to meet. They threaten but they do not destroy.

'Indians? – What Indians?'

We Can Do Tricks, But Can We Keep Balance?

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Something of a belated realization that maybe America isn't so backward after all seems to have swept the world as a consequence of the Atlas satellite launched into orbit.

The aerial demonstration has scientific value, of course, and it is fascinating to listen to the words of the President flung back from outer space through miraculous inventions in the field of electronics. But it is a stunt, after all, and the significance from a military viewpoint is not immediately any greater than when the concept of an intercontinental ballistic missile itself first became a reality a few years ago.

The importance to the citizen is the effect that all these stunts have on the federal budget. It's important from a propaganda viewpoint to catch up with the Russian "prestige," but it is also important to keep focusing on military weapons rather than scientific achievements just for the sake of science.

When the Soviets launched their "Sputnik," a sort of hysteria developed. This correspondent, in October 1957, wrote:

"Judging by the hysterical outcries of various people, including some of the politicians, America should bow her head in shame, pull down the Flag and offer to surrender at once to the tyrants in the Kremlin. Or else, it is impulsively urged, the United States should begin spending billions upon billions no matter if it unbalances the budget, forces the purchasing power of the dollar down to ten cents and brings on a financial and economic debacle.

"How amazing it is that, by the simple stunt of spinning an iron ball around the world, Americans in vast numbers can be led to lose their heads in an anguished clamor of the 'for-God's-sake-do-something' variety."

It was pointed out at the time that the Soviet people had not been emancipated from their tyrannical rulers and that jet bombers flying from Western bases within a few minutes of Soviet territory had not suddenly become useless.

As a matter of fact, while the "Sputnik" may have accelerated some scientific endeavors in outer space, the progress on intercontinental missiles was to some extent impeded by the new emphasis on the spectacular stunts which were designed to have propaganda value.

Back of all the technical debate about new scientific developments is a grim battle for the citizen's dollar. It takes a good deal of courage for the President to rearrange the main items of the military budget so that first things will come first. It is difficult to answer publicly the protests of those persons with an ax to grind, who keep on crying out that America is behind and that the Administration is neglecting this or that weapon. One reason is that public debate of this kind can only operate to the benefit of the potential enemy.

America is moving ahead nonpolitically, non-partisanly and with the best brains of science and industry trying to give America the weapons needed with which to conduct a massive retaliation if this country or its allies should suddenly be attacked.

Even the clamor for diplomatic talks has been recognized by the Administration, which has sent envoys again and again to confer with the Communist representatives at Geneva and other places, only to discover that the "talk" idea is just a Soviet maneuver intended to make it appear that the United States wants war and not peace.

The "Sputnik" episode has been a destructive rather than a constructive influence. It has initiated, for instance, some caustic criticism of our educational system. It led to campaigns to get extra funds from Congress for purposes quite unrelated to the battle of the satellites in outer space. Also, the entire military budget of the United States has been subjected to criticism based on a supposed need for big amounts of money to participate in the "Sputnik" race.

Now that America has shown that her scientists can equal, if not surpass, the Soviet scientists, it is to be hoped that a sense of balance will be achieved and that needless expenditure of vast sums to get the moon will not be made at a time when the problem of balancing a budget and saving the dollar from rapid deterioration is perhaps the biggest down-to-earth problem faced by this country in its economic history. America has proved that she, too, can do stunts in outer space. Now it is hoped the skeptics and defeatists will be satisfied and the emphasis can turn to what it was prior to 1957—namely, to the rapid development of intercontinental ballistic missiles, the most powerful deterrent of war yet conceived.

An 84-year-old Englishwoman has a gambling system which, she claims, has been winning her a pound ($2.80) a minute at the tables in Monte Carlo. How's that for a dandy old-age income setup?

Speaking of Russians—Moscow Radio reports that Ivan Nigmatulin, a 4-year-old boy there, tips the scales at 110 pounds and can lift 36 pounds. That's starting mighty early — to throw his weight around.

A Louisville centenarian declares he has always avoided physical exercise in any form. Here's one fellow who's found the first 100 years the easiest!

Polish Americans Outnumber Those Of Italian Descent In New Congress

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Never before has the American "melting pot" been so evident in the Legislative Branch of the government. The number of ethnic Americans in both Houses of the 86th Congress will be the greatest in history. They range from a Rhodes Scholar son of Greek immigrants to an India-born, naturalized citizen, with a sprinkling of many other foreign extractions.

Italian-Americans, who occupy eight seats in the House and one in the Senate—Sen. John Pastore of Rhode Island—have given way to Polish-Americans, with 12 seats. Irish-Americans are so populous in Congress that they no longer are classified, in a strict sense, as an ethnic (foreign extraction) group. The same applies to German-Americans.

The background of the "melting pot" legislators is as varied as their religious beliefs. One of the newcomers certain to be heard from is Democratic Rep. John Brademus of Indiana, a Methodist and the son of Greek immigrants, who has been a professor of political science at St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, Indiana. However, most of the ethnic legislators have European, Catholic ancestry.

Brademus, a Rhodes Scholar, recently won his spurs in politics as administrative assistant to Sen. Pat McNamara of Michigan and Rep. Thomas Ashley of Ohio. Democratic Rep. D. S. Saund of California, born in India, now serving his second term in the House, is the first Far Easterner ever elected to Congress.

Besides Saund, California also boasts a Lebanese-American in its House delegation—Democratic Rep. George Kasem, a law graduate of the University of Southern California, who had four years service with the Army Air Corps in World War II. Kasem is a former grocery clerk and still carries a card in the Retail Clerks Union.

Jugoslav and Czech-Americans in the new Congress will include such outstanding, veteran legislators as Reps. John Blatnik of Minnesota and Charles Vanik of Ohio.

Of the big Polish-American group in the House, two promising newcomers are Reps. Roman Pucinski of Chicago, a newspaper reporter and Air Corps captain in the World War II bombing of Tokyo, and Frank Kowalski of Connecticut, a West Point graduate and Army colonel, also with a distinguished war record.

Other Polish-Americans who will answer the roll when the 86th Congress convenes in January include three Detroiters, Reps. John Dingell, Thad Machrowicz and John Lesinski; John Kluczynski, Edward Derwinski and Daniel Rostenkowski of Illinois; Alvin O'Konski of Wisconsin, Thad Dulski of New York, Stanley Prokop of Pennsylvania and Clement Zablocki of Wisconsin.

Politics And Segregation

It was announced publicly that the House elections committee voted 3-to-2 to bar the seating of Arkansas Segregationist Dale Alford, pending a probe of fraud charges in his write-in defeat of Democratic Rep. Brooks Hays of Little Rock. But what wasn't announced was the fiery debate which took place behind closed doors.

Democratic Rep. Robert Jones of Alabama hotly challenged the position of GOP Rep. (now Senator-elect) Kenneth Keating of New York.

"The gentleman from New York is inconsistent, to say the least," declared Jones. "Two years ago, he took an opposite position when the disputed election of a Republican, Congressman Hale of Maine, was before this committee. The gentleman then voted to seat his fellow Republican, pending an investigation."

"That was different," replied Keating. "There were no charges of fraud in that case, as there are in the Alford matter."

"Oh, no, the only difference is in your position, which was one way two years ago, another today. Both you and I agree that an investigation should be made of the Alford case, but in my opinion he is entitled to take his seat until the investigation is completed."

Keating strongly resented the implication that he was playing politics, tossed back some implications of his own to the effect that Jones and the committee chairman, Rep. Clifford Davis of Tennessee, were engaging in "sectional" politics.

"Listen, I am not impelled by sectional considerations," testily retorted Jones. "I am just as determined as you are to have a full investigation, but I want to see this case settled on its merits, not emotionally or as a political device to be exploited sectionally or for partisan advantage."

"Well, I'm not playing politics either," bristled Keating. In the showdown, Keating lined up with another Republican, Rep. David Dennison of Ohio, and Democrat Thomas O'Neill of Massachusetts against Davis and Jones.

It was Christmas morning and a crust of old snow rusted against the curbs. The late morning sun plastered weak gold against the spires of the churches. The sky was big and blue and empty and cold. In St. John's Church, Father Peter Kramer closed the gospel. He was old and thin and his time was gone. His pale eyes looked over the crowded church and saw the bright hats, the sprigs of pine on fur collars, the faces bright and dull and shiny and lined.

He crooked a finger. "Theresa," he said, "come up here and sit at the altar." A little girl came up from the back of the church. "Donald," he said as the finger crooked again, "come up here." The old eyes saw all the standees in the back. He tried hard not to be partial to children, but he couldn't help it. "Alice, Florence, Johnny." The youngsters obeyed. They came up and sat crouched at the altar rail.

"Let us," he said to the assemblage, "speak about Christmas." The people settled in the pews. In the silence, coughs were heard. "Let me tell you about Christmas," the old priest said, "when I was a boy." Everybody knew that Father Peter Kramer, O. Carm, had been born in Germany. Now he was pastor of St. John's Church in Leonia, N. J. This was to be his last stop. All he had left of Germany was a little accent.

"We lived in a village," he said. "We went to bed early. Also the mother and the father. The house was cold at night and we shivered at our prayers and hurried to get down deep between the quilts. On Christmas Eve, we shut our eyes but we could not go to sleep. We squirmed, we sighed.

"Good Saint Nicholas would be setting up a tree downstairs in the sitting room and he would put presents of sleds and skates and candy and new sweaters around it and then he would close the folding doors and be gone into the sky. Sometimes, deep in the pillow, I thought I could hear his silvery bells. And once I was sure I heard his deep booming laugh.

"At five o'clock, my mother awakened us. She knocked on the door and said: 'Everybody up. Merry Christmas.' You might think that we rushed downstairs to look at the presents. How our hearts ached to do this. But it was not to be.

"First we had to wash. Then we had to dress in our Sunday best. Then downstains, where my father inspected every last one. All of us looked at the closed folding doors, but we knew better than to say anything. My father always made the same speech. 'This,' he said, 'is Our Lord's birthday. First we go to wish Him happy birthday, then we come back and see if good Saint Nicholas cares to remember naughty children.'

"My mother gave each of us a tall candle. It was lit and held in the right hand. It was still dark when we started out to church, all the children in front starting with the youngest, with mother and father in the back. Almost always we had snow in that part of Germany. We walked down the roads, listening to the squeak of the snow and shielding the candle light with the left hand.

"The church was on the highest hill because man always reaches upward to God. As we mounted the hill, we could see people on all the roads leading to the church. All of them held candles. It was like watching five rivers of fire. For a brief moment, I would forget the presents back home.

"We knelt by the manger and we adored the Baby. We could smell the damp straw and see the sheep who kept Him warm. We watched Mary and Joseph bend over the little crib and, from our own home, we knew how natural that was.

"When mass was over, we started back toward home. Again the little ones in front, the big ones behind. The little feet wanted to go faster, but the big feet wouldn't let them. It seemed forever, that walk back. When we got there, my father kissed us one and all and said 'Merry Christmas' and then he opened the folding doors. What an excitement that was! My little stomach was so knotted with joy that I could not eat breakfast.

"This is what it was like, in my time. I do not like to trouble you with my recollections, but I cannot think of anything else on this Christmas morning."

That was 20 years ago. Father Kramer is gone, but I remember the sermon almost word for word. . .

Stresses, Strains, Itching And Scratching

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

More than 200 years ago, itching was described as "that disagreeable sensation that excites the desire to scratch." We have not been able to improve on this definition even though we know much more about the causes of pruritus.

Everyone has an urge to scratch some part of the skin during the day or night. The tendency increases during stress and strain and with changes in air currents on getting out of bed in the morning or undressing at night.

Itching stems from stimulation of nests of fine nerve fibers in the outer layers of the skin. Some areas are more abundantly supplied than others with these centers. Parts of the body denuded of skin by an accident, for example, do not itch until the area is re-covered.

Internal diseases that produce itching include diabetes uremia, liver disease, leukemia, and certain cancers. Pregnant women note the symptom in the last few months before delivery. Dryness of the skin is the most logical explanation for itching in older persons.

Not every skin disorder itches, which is one method of distinguishing lesions that look alike. Itching is most intense in eczema and in the forms of dermatitis caused by sensitivity, such as poison ivy. Ringworm and other parasitic infections follow suit. Victims of scabies scratch so violently the condition is nicknamed "the itch."

Scratching produced by a nervous itch probably is the most damaging of all. The scratch marks are deep and produce the typical dug out lines over accessible portions of the body such as shoulders, face, arms, and legs.

When itching is a symptom of a systemic disease, the basic condition must be treated to remedy the irritation. Temporary relief of products ranging from the old reliable, calamine lotion, to the new and powerful steroid ointments.

The antihistaminic agents are effective in easing a variety of irritating lesions. The tranquilizers are useful when nervousness enters the picture. Newer antipruritic agents include tablets of tronothane, quotane, and Rynatan.

J. A. M. writes: Golf is a strenuous game and I have heard of many persons who collapsed and died on the links. Some had suffered previous heart attacks and others were healthy. I feel the President's physician is making a mistake in permitting him to engage in too much golf, considering his past illnesses. Do you agree?

REPLY

I would if you had as much experience in treating heart patients as Dr. Paul Dudley White, the President's cardiologist. There is no harm in exercising after recovery from a heart attack provided it does not lead to shortness of breath, chest pain, or a decided increase in heart beat. In many instances, exercise actually strengthens the heart muscle by improving the coronary circulation. Golfers with ticker trouble should avoid hills and play only when the weather is equable. The electric golf cart minimizes exertion; it has been a boon to many golfers who develop symptoms from this activity.

THIN 2 YEAR OLD

W. H. writes: Why does a child of 2 remain skinny though he eats like a horse?

REPLY

Your child's good appetite is a clew that he is healthy. Youngsters this age have unlimited energy and most of the calories in their food are burned through physical activity.

NICOTINE AND INSOMNIA

W. J. writes: Could smoking 40 cigarets a day lead to insomnia?

REPLY

Not unless smoking is stimulating or cigaret cough keeps you awake. There are numerous causes of insomnia and smoking is way down on the list.

EXERCISE AND NERVES

J. B. writes: Will exercising strengthen the nervous system?

REPLY

Nerves themselves cannot be strengthened by exercise because their cells will not become larger or smaller like those of muscle tissue. On the other hand, exercise gives an emotional lift and increases the feeling of well being, which will be helpful to the hypochondriac and psychoneurotic.

TOMORROW: Christmas Day.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Per Capita Figures Tangle Statistics

These are the glorious days when practically all the economic statistics show the national economy on the upgrade. However, also on the upgrade is the population. This increases by about two per cent a year, so various growth factors should be corrected by something like this degree to indicate the really significant growth.

For instance, the third quarter of 1958 figure for the gross national product shows it about the same as in 1957, one per cent higher than in 1956, 3½ per cent higher than in 1956. Considering the population increase since these years, the third quarter of 1958 shows recovery working fast toward but not yet quite up to the full prosperity of several years ago.

A similar story is told by the industrial production figure for October. This was at about the same rate as for the year 1955, which means it was a little lower on a per capita basis. Economic recovery was on its way but far from complete.

As for automobile production in an expanding economy, former General Motors president Harlow H. Curtice has put it at 5.7 million cars for 1959. This would be about the same as in 1956 and a little higher than in 1954, both considered good years in the industry. But compared to the population the Curtice-predicted 1959 output would be six per cent below the 1954 output.

On the other hand, just as the per capita factor makes optimistic figures seem a little less rosy, it makes pessimistic figures seem a little less gloomy. The public debt, now around $283 billion, is 2 per cent higher than its World War II high of $278 billion in February 1946, yet on a per capita basis is 17 per cent lower.

A budget of $77 billion for fiscal 1960 would be nearly twice as high as the budget of fiscal 1950, but only two-thirds as high per capita. Statistical corrections could be made also for the decreasing value of the dollar but, please, let's not go into that one.

These Days

Peace On Earth . . .

Each year we sing "Peace on earth . . ." but there is no peace. This we have become accustomed to as we have become accustomed to so much that is evil in the world. We labor and much of the richness of our labor goes into the cost of preparing not to fight or preparing to fight whichever it may turn out to be. Still we hope for peace, but what we really seek are little compromises, peaces that men can make around tables, little peaces, little contracts, a detail here or there, something that can be agreed upon.

Is there not something that all nations can agree upon and that they might write on stone to last forever? Apparently not! Apparently we are not yet sufficiently civilized.

We say that we have attained such marvels as man never heard of before. We have sailed beneath the North Pole in peace and safety. We have tracked the vastness of the South Pole. We are shooting missiles at the moon and, who knows, before long someone will be in one of those missiles to report on the moon. We know so much that our heads are filled with wonders and it is no longer easy just to get an education in the simple cultures of man. We have moved beyond the cultures of man to the excesses of man's mental capacity which is apparently limitless.

Do you recall that back in 1917, the United States, a simple nation of comparatively happy people, went to war to make the world safe for democracy? It was the Kaiser that we objected to, a quiet sort of fellow who liked to dress up like a character in "The Merry Widow." We made quite a fuss about him and his sons, remnants of medievalism who were much the same as the rest of us. But our bands played "Over There" and their bands played "Deutschland Uber Alles" and we slaughtered each other.

Out of that war rose two great new forces. Both emerged from the lower depths of humanity—the weak, the sordid, the depraved. I personally saw one of these emerge, Bolshevism in Russia, a monstrous concept of man, in its origins even more terrifying than what it has become. The other was Nazism with its prophet, Adolf Hitler.

How often in my youth did I meet Lenins and Trotzkys and Hitlers and Goebbelses—all the worn and abused personalities of the early 20th century who could not live in the world because they had to live alone out of it. It seemed a period for such people. I recall being in Stockholm in Sweden in 1917 and it would seem that all those who found life unbearable were in that city in that year and among them was Comrade Howe, a delightful human being from St. Louis who inherited a bridge and a million dollars but decided that that was evil, so he wore yellow shoes, no socks, the striped trousers of a Prince Albert coat and a kind of flat straw hat called a floater. He lived on hand-outs and his idea was that as a bum he would live as Jesus lived, although he did not know how Jesus lived or why.

Anyhow, it was such a period and I cite one loveable example of a world which was tending to its affairs and paying no attention to the queer ones who were moving among the people. And the queer ones took over. They were hungry and courageous and had nothing to lose and so they took over in whatever country they could. And soon the queer ones were great ones and the queer ones took and they tried to smash our world.

Curiously what resisted were not so much armies and air forces, but a power beyond man himself, a faith in something called a Judaic-Christian culture that had for about 5,000 years built a way of life in the world that, while not perfect, is based on good. This power set up a resistance that the queer ones do not know how to meet. They threaten but they do not destroy.

We Can Do Tricks, But Can We Keep Balance?

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Something of a belated realization that maybe America isn't so backward after all seems to have swept the world as a consequence of the Atlas satellite launched into orbit.

The aerial demonstration has scientific value, of course, and it is fascinating to listen to the words of the President flung back from outer space through miraculous inventions in the field of electronics. But it is a stunt, after all, and the significance from a military viewpoint is not immediately any greater than when the concept of an intercontinental ballistic missile itself first became a reality a few years ago.

The importance to the citizen is the effect that all these stunts have on the federal budget. It's important from a propaganda viewpoint to catch up with the Russian "prestige," but it is also important to keep focusing on military weapons rather than scientific achievements just for the sake of science.

When the Soviets launched their "Sputnik," a sort of hysteria developed. This correspondent, in October 1957, wrote:

"Judging by the hysterical outcries of various people, including some of the politicians, America should bow her head in shame, pull down the Flag and offer to surrender at once to the tyrants in the Kremlin. Or else, it is impulsively urged, the United States should begin spending billions upon billions no matter if it unbalances the budget, forces the purchasing power of the dollar down to ten cents and brings on a financial and economic debacle.

"How amazing it is that, by the simple stunt of spinning an iron ball around the world, Americans in vast numbers can be led to lose their heads in an anguished clamor of the 'for-God's-sake-do-something' variety."

It was pointed out at the time that the Soviet people had not been emancipated from their tyrannical rulers and that jet bombers flying from Western bases within a few minutes of Soviet territory had not suddenly become useless.

As a matter of fact, while the "Sputnik" may have accelerated some scientific endeavors in outer space, the progress on intercontinental missiles was to some extent impeded by the new emphasis on the spectacular stunts which were designed to have propaganda value.

Back of all the technical debate about new scientific developments is a grim battle for the citizen's dollar. It takes a good deal of courage for the President to rearrange the main items of the military budget so that first things will come first. It is difficult to answer publicly the protests of those persons with an ax to grind, who keep on crying out that America is behind and that the Administration is neglecting this or that weapon. One reason is that public debate of this kind can only operate to the benefit of the potential enemy.

America is moving ahead non-politically, non-partisanly and with the best brains of science and industry trying to give America the weapons needed with which to conduct a massive retaliation if this country or its allies should suddenly be attacked.

Even the clamor for diplomatic talks has been recognized by the Administration, which has sent envoys again and again to confer with the Communist representatives at Geneva and other places, only to discover that the "talk" idea is just a Soviet maneuver intended to make it appear that the United States wants war and not peace.

The "Sputnik" episode has been a destructive rather than a constructive influence. It has initiated, for instance, some caustic criticism of our educational system. It led to campaigns to get extra funds from Congress for purposes quite unrelated to the battle of the satellites in outer space. Also, the entire military budget of the United States has been subjected to criticism based on a supposed need for big amounts of money to participate in the "Sputnik" race.

Now that America has shown that her scientists can equal, if not surpass, the Soviet scientists, it is to be hoped that a sense of balance will be achieved and that needless expenditure of vast sums to get the moon will not be made at a time when the problem of balancing a budget and saving the dollar from rapid deterioration is perhaps the biggest down-to-earth problem faced by this country in its economic history. America has proved that she, too, can do stunts in outer space. Now it is hoped the skeptics and defeatists will be satisfied and the emphasis can turn to what it was prior to 1957—namely, to the rapid development of intercontinental ballistic missiles, the most powerful deterrent of war yet conceived.

Polish Americans Outnumber Those Of Italian Descent In New Congress

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Never before has the American "melting pot" been so evident in the Legislative Branch of the government. The number of ethnic Americans in both Houses of the 86th Congress will be the greatest in history. They range from a Rhodes Scholar son of Greek immigrants to an India-born, naturalized citizen, with a sprinkling of many other foreign extractions.

Italian-Americans, who occupy eight seats in the House and one in the Senate—Sen. John Pastore of Rhode Island—have given way to Polish-Americans, with 12 seats. Irish-Americans are so populous in Congress that they no longer are classified, in a strict sense, as an ethnic (foreign extraction) group. The same applies to German-Americans.

The background of the "melting pot" legislators is as varied as their religious beliefs. One of the newcomers certain to be heard from is Democratic Rep. John Brademus of Indiana, a Methodist and the son of Greek immigrants, who has been a professor of political science at St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, Indiana. However, most of the ethnic legislators have European, Catholic ancestry.

Brademus, a Rhodes Scholar, recently won his spurs in politics as administrative assistant to Sen. Pat McNamara of Michigan and Rep. Thomas Ashley of Ohio. Democratic Rep. D. S. Saund of California, born in India, now serving his second term in the House, is the first Far Easterner ever elected to Congress.

Besides Saund, California also boasts a Lebanese-American in its House delegation—Democratic Rep. George Kasem, a law graduate of the University of Southern California, who had four years service with the Army Air Corps in World War II. Kasem is a former grocery clerk and still carries a card in the Retail Clerks Union.

Jugoslav and Czech-Americans in the new Congress will include such outstanding, veteran legislators as Reps. John Blatnik of Minnesota and Charles Vanik of Ohio.

Of the big Polish-American group in the House, two promising newcomers are Reps. Roman Pucinski of Chicago, a newspaper reporter and Air Corps captain in the World War II bombing of Tokyo, and Frank Kowalski of Connecticut, a West Point graduate and Army colonel, also with a distinguished war record.

Other Polish-Americans who will answer the roll when the 86th Congress convenes in January include three Detroiters, Reps. John Dingell, Thad Machrowicz and John Lesinski; John Kluczynski, Edward Derwinski and Daniel Rostenkowski of Illinois; Alvin O'Konski of Wisconsin, Thad Dulski of New York, Stanley Prokop of Pennsylvania and Clement Zablocki of Wisconsin.

Politics And Segregation

It was announced publicly that the House elections committee voted 3-to-2 to bar the seating of Arkansas Segregationist Dale Alford, pending a probe of fraud charges in his write-in defeat of Democratic Rep. Brooks Hays of Little Rock. But what wasn't announced was the fiery debate which took place behind closed doors.

Democratic Rep. Robert Jones of Alabama hotly challenged the position of GOP Rep. (now Senator-elect) Kenneth Keating of New York.

"The gentleman from New York is inconsistent, to say the least," declared Jones. "Two years ago, he took an opposite position when the disputed election of a Republican, Congressman Hale of Maine, was before this committee. The gentleman then voted to seat his fellow Republican, pending an investigation."

"That was different," replied Keating. "There were no charges of fraud in that case, as there are in the Alford matter."

"Oh, no, the only difference is in your position, which was one way two years ago, another today. Both you and I agree that an investigation should be made of the Alford case, but in my opinion he is entitled to take his seat until the investigation is completed."

Keating strongly resented the implication that he was playing politics, tossed back some implications of his own to the effect that Jones and the committee chairman, Rep. Clifford Davis of Tennessee, were engaging in "sectional" politics.

"Listen, I am not impelled by sectional considerations," testily retorted Jones. "I am just as determined as you are to have a full investigation, but I want to see this case settled on its merits, not emotionally or as a political device to be exploited sectionally or for partisan advantage."

"Well, I'm not playing politics either," bristled Keating. In the showdown, Keating lined up with another Republican, Rep. David Dennison of Ohio, and Democrat Thomas O'Neill of Massachusetts against Davis and Jones.

Stresses, Strains, Itching And Scratching

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

More than 200 years ago, itching was described as "that disagreeable sensation that excites the desire to scratch." We have not been able to improve on this definition even though we know much more about the causes of pruritus.

Everyone has an urge to scratch some part of the skin during the day or night. The tendency increases during stress and strain and with changes in air currents on getting out of bed in the morning or undressing at night.

Itching stems from stimulation of nests of fine nerve fibers in the outer layers of the skin. Some areas are more abundantly supplied than others with these centers. Parts of the body denuded of skin by an accident, for example, do not itch until the area is re-covered.

Internal diseases that produce itching include diabetes uremia, liver disease, leukemia, and certain cancers. Pregnant women note the symptom in the last few months before delivery. Dryness of the skin is the most logical explanation for itching in older persons.

Not every skin disorder itches, which is one method of distinguishing lesions that look alike. Itching is most intense in eczema and in the forms of dermatitis caused by sensitivity, such as poison ivy. Ringworm and other parasitic infections follow suit. Victims of scabies scratch so violently the condition is nicknamed "the itch."

Scratching produced by a nervous itch probably is the most damaging of all. The scratch marks are deep and produce the typical dug out lines over accessible portions of the body such as shoulders, face, arms, and legs.

When itching is a symptom of a systemic disease, the basic condition must be treated to remedy the irritation. Temporary relief of products ranging from the old reliable, calamine lotion, to the new and powerful steroid ointments.

The antihistaminic agents are effective in easing a variety of irritating lesions. The tranquilizers are useful when nervousness enters the picture. Newer antipruritic agents include tablets of tronothane, quotane, and Rynatan.

IKE'S HOBBY

J. A. M. writes: Golf is a strenuous game and I have heard of many persons who collapsed and died on the links. Some had suffered previous heart attacks and others were healthy. I feel the President's physician is making a mistake in permitting him to engage in too much golf, considering his past illnesses. Do you agree?

REPLY

I would if you had as much experience in treating heart patients as Dr. Paul Dudley White, the President's cardiologist. There is no harm in exercising after recovery from a heart attack provided it does not lead to shortness of breath, chest pain, or a decided increase in heart beat. In many instances, exercise actually strengthens the heart muscle by improving the coronary circulation. Golfers with ticker trouble should avoid hills and play only when the weather is equable. The electric golf cart minimizes exertion; it has been a boon to many golfers who develop symptoms from this activity.

THIN 2 YEAR OLD

W. H. writes: Why does a child of 2 remain skinny though he eats like a horse?

REPLY

Your child's good appetite is a clew that he is healthy. Youngsters this age have unlimited energy and most of the calories in their food are burned through physical activity.

NICOTINE AND INSOMNIA

W. J. writes: Could smoking 40 cigarets a day lead to insomnia?

REPLY

Not unless smoking is stimulating or cigaret cough keeps you awake. There are numerous causes of insomnia and smoking is way down on the list.

EXERCISE AND NERVES

J. B. writes: Will exercising strengthen the nervous system?

REPLY

Nerves themselves cannot be strengthened by exercise because their cells will not become larger or smaller like those of muscle tissue. On the other hand, exercise gives an emotional lift and increases the feeling of well being, which will be helpful to the hypochondriac and psychoneurotic.

TOMORROW: Christmas Day.

Try And Stop Me

A visitor to California asked Eddie Cantor how poor he had been as a boy on New York's East Side. "I'll tell you how poor we were," recalled Eddie. "When somebody telephoned mama, she had to walk upstairs to the butcher shop."

Distinguished lady author had an embarrassing experience at Christmas time. She suddenly recalled a nephew she hadn't seen in years, and impulsively sent him a bubble-blowing set. He gravely thanked her by letter, adding that he has been a colonel in the U.S. Army for the past 17 months.

Office group singing carols on Christmas Eve noticed that something was a bit wrong. It proved to be a recent addition to the staff, recently imported from Mobile, Alabamy. She was singing, "O lil' ol' town of Bethlehem . . ."

Herb Elliott Is Voted Top Male Athlete

Second Time Award Goes To Foreigner

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Herb Elliott, the 20-year-old Australian who broke the four-minute barrier 10 times and set a world mark of 3:54.5 for the mile run, Tuesday was named outstanding male athlete of the year for 1958 in the annual Associated Press year-end poll.

Elliott won by a substantial margin over Jimmy Brown, star back of the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League. Pitcher Bob Turley of the New York Yankees, a 21-game season winner and World Series hero, was a distant third.

It marked only the second time in the 28-year-old history of the poll of sports writers and broadcasters that the award went to a foreign athlete. Gundar Haegg, Sweden's great runner, was the 1943 winner.

Elliott smashed Australia's John Landy's mile record of 3.58 Aug. 6 in Dublin. This came a little more than six months after he ran his first below four-minute mile in Melbourne when he was clocked in 3:59.9. At that time, Elliott was the 18th man to better four minutes since Roger Bannister of Great Britain did it May 6, 1954 with a time of 3:59.4.

Elliott received 67 first place votes and 236 points. Points were counted on a basis of three for first place, two for second and one for third.

Brown had 39 votes for first and 172 points. Turley collected 85 points followed by Rafer Johnson, America's world decathlon record holder, 82; Baltimore Colts quarterback John Unitas 73, and Ernie Banke of the Chicago Cubs, the National League's most valuable player 72. A total of 206 writers and broadcasters participated in the balloting.

Ted Williams, the 1957 male athlete of the year, received only one first place vote and seven points. The 40 - year - old Boston slugger slumped 60 points (.388 to .328) although he won the American League batting championship for the second consecutive year.

The Fraternal Order of Eagle—Frederick C. Miller Memorial Trophy — annually awarded to the winner of the AP poll, will be presented to Elliott in Milwaukee Feb. 9.

In addition to Haegg, Jesse Owens and Bob Mathias were the only other previous winners from track and field. Owens won the honor in 1936 after running wild in the Berlin Olympics. Mathias received it in 1952 for his showing in the Helsink Olympics as well as his performance with the Stanford football team.

But possibly none captured the imagination of the track world as did the nut-chewing, hill-climbing Australian, who ran his heart out in seven countries to show that his record-breaking and near-record times were not myths.

Elliott ran a 3:57.8 mile at the Los Angeles Coliseum Relays in May. He bettered four-minutes for the seventh time with 3:59 at the British Empire Games in Wales. He shattered the 1,500 meters record with 3:36 at Goteborg, Sweden Aug. 29. A week later, Herb was clocked in 3:37.4 over the same distance in Oslo, Norway. He ran a 3:55.4 mile in London.

Kuharich Set For Recruiting Talent

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — A hard-core recruiting program with enough athletic scholarships to provide talent equal to any of Notre Dame's future football opponents—that was the picture indicated Tuesday by the Irish's new head coach, Joe Kuharich.

Kuharich returned to his South Bend home and his alma mater, where he played for Elmer Layden 20 years ago, as successor to 30-year-old Terry Brennan. Brennan was released for not winning enough football games. He had a 32-18 record in five years.

Kuharich, who since 1954 has been coach of the professional Washington Redskins, said "I've had an understanding of the minds" with Notre Dame officials in regard to scholarships. He added:

"This is going to be a tough job, but all coaching jobs are tough. The number of scholarships that we give out to prospective athletics will be flexible and adequate and in the same proportion in comparison with the football teams we will meet."

The scrap will not be televised.

In five games to date, Robertson has shot 84 charity throws. He hit 68 of them for a completion mark of 81 per cent.

NEW YORK (UPI) —Bob Pettit, Bill Russell, Bill Sharman, Kenny Sears and Dick McGuire remained on top Tuesday in the National Basketball Association's various individual departments.

Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks led the scoring race with 768 points for a 28.4-point average. Paul Arizin of the Philadelphia Warriors was second with 680 points and Elgin Baylor of the Minneapolis Lakers was third with 670.

Giants' Grier Unable To Play

Several Other N.Y. Players Are Injured

NEW YORK (AP) — Roosevelt Grier, 270-pound defensive tackle of the New York football Giants, was placed on the doubtful list for Sunday's title game with Baltimore because of knee and arm injuries.

Grier was unable to participate in Tuesday's workout at Yankee Stadium. Coach Jim Lee Howell said the loss of Grier would be a terrific blow.

Chances are Grier will come around in time for the big game for the championship of the National Football League. If not, he will be replaced by M. L. Brackett or rookie Frank Youso.

Bob Mischak, a starting guard on offense; Kyle Rote, one of the offensive ends, and Alex Webster, a regular halfback, also were unable to work out due to injuries.

Howell called a long workout for Wednesday. He will give the team a day off Thursday and wind up preparations with an afternoon drill Friday.

Veeck Expected To Buy Chisox

Imminent Sale Blow To Comiskey

CHICAGO (AP)—Before spring training is under way baseball's flamboyant Bill Veeck is expected to rule the Chicago White Sox.

An informed source said Tuesday there was every indication the club's 3,235 shares controlled by Mrs. Dorothy Comiskey Rigney, will be sold to a syndicate headed by Veeck.

The imminent sale of the majority holding would be a blow to Chuck Comiskey, Dorothy's 32-year-old brother, who owns or will own 2,735 shares by his 35th birthday.

Comiskey, now a White Sox vice president along with Dorothy's husband, John Rigney, held high hopes of buying out Dorothy, with whom he has been embroiled in suits over disposition of stock willed by their mother and late club president, Mrs. Grace Comiskey.

It was learned Tuesday Dorothy can sell her share of the club without settlement of suits and countersuits which will not affect the sharing of stock as fixed in Mrs. Comiskey's will.

Apparently Veeck has come up with a bid that an inside source claims will set the cash value of the club at approximately five million dollars. The makeup of Veeck's syndicate is not known other than that Hank Greenberg, former major league star and former Cleveland Indian part owner, is reported to be a member.

Sugar Ray Dares NBA To Take Crown

Middleweight King Wants Fair Shake

NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson Tuesday dared the National Boxing Assn. to take away his world middleweight crown but warned the NBA's individual members to beware of a legal counter-punch if they did.

The 38-year-old champion blasted an NBA ultimatum that he announce his title plans by Jan. 11 or face drastic action as "a nasty thing" and "unfair."

Arch Hindman, NBA executive secretary, issued the edict on Saturday. Rules of the NBA, which governs boxing in all states except New York and Massachusetts, require a champion to defend his title at least once every six months.

Robinson regained the middleweight title in Chicago last March 25, nine months ago, by dethroning Carmen Basilio in their return fight.

"Let 'em take the title away now if they want," said Robinson heatedly. "They don't have to wait until Jan. 11. They can declare it vacant now. The way the tax situation is I can't fight again this year and realize anything.

"All I want is equal treatment. If they want to take action against me, why didn't they do it to Floyd Patterson, Archie Moore and Alphonse Halimi. They were 'way over the six months period. If they're going to enforce the rule, then let 'em enforce it against everyone.

"I'm going to talk things over with Truman Gibson (president of the International Boxing Club) after the holidays. Then we'll see what the situation is."

"Let 'em take the title," echoed Robinson's advisor, George Gainford. "I dare 'em to. We'll sue every member of the NBA individually."

Patterson, the heavyweight champion, went nearly a year without risking his crown. He knocked out Pete Rademacher on Aug. 22, 1957 and it wasn't until Aug. 18, 1958 that he met and stopped Roy Harris.

Moore, the light heavyweight boss, had a 15-month gap between defenses. The ancient battler knocked out Tony Anthony Sept. 20, 1957 and then kayoed Yvon Durelle in a thriller two weeks ago.

Halimi, the bantamweight king from Paris, has gone 13 months so far without putting his title on the line. He defeated Mexico's Raul (Raton) Macias on Nov. 6, 1957.

Seats Available

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants said Tuesday that about 15,000 bleacher and standing room tickets still were available for Sunday's championship playoff game with the Baltimore Colts.

Kentucky, N.C., Auburn Move Up In UPI Cage Poll

By JOHN GRIFFIN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Kentucky, North Carolina, and Auburn, winners of the first three major holiday basketball tournaments, received an added Christmas present Tuesday — higher national ratings.

The UPI Board of Coaches, in issuing its weekly ratings of the nation's best major college teams, tabbed Cincinnati as the No. 1 team in the country for the third straight week, and with a higher point total than last week.

But Kentucky, which won its own invitational tournament over a blue-ribbon field, was boosted from third to second place; North Carolina, surprise winner of the Blue Grass Invitational, jumped all the way from 14th to fifth; and Auburn, winner of the Birmingham Classic and owner of a 61-game winning streak that the longest in the nation, jumped from 35th to ninth place.

Cincinnati received 25 first-place votes from the 35 coaches who comprise the board, while Kentucky received eight and Kansas State two. Voting was based on games played through Sat., Dec. 20.

Though Cincinnati's 339 - point (based on points allotted 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 for votes from first through 10th place) was two more than last week and only 11 short of a perfect score, the Oscar Robertson - led Bearcats actually saw their lead over the second-place team reduced.

Cincinnati led Kansas State by 53 points in last week's ratings, but topped Kentucky this week by just 33.

Kansas State dropped to third place and was followed by Michigan State, North Carolina, North Carolina State, West Virginia, Savier of Ohio, Auburn, and, in a tie for 10th place, California and Northwestern.

The "second 10" group included Bradley in 12th place, Texas Christian 13th, Mississippi State 14th, St. John's 15th, Purdue 16th, St. Bonaventure 17th, Washington and Utah tied for 18th; and St. Joseph's (Pa.) and Indiana tied for 20th.

Dropping out of the top 10 were St. Joseph's, which had been ninth before losing to Kansas State, and Texas Christian, which had been 10th.

Net Star Irked By Illness Talk

Richardson Says He Will Play 3 Matches

BRISBANE (AP)—An incensed Ham Richardson lashed out at his critics Tuesday and announced he fully intended to play in both the singles and doubles in the Davis Cup Challenge Round against Austria next week.

"All this talk about my diabetes and my physical condition is poppycock," the country's No. 1 player said. "I feel wonderful, I am playing the best tennis of my life. I feel I am the best player and that our best chance of winning the cup depends on my playing all three days."

Jack Kramer, professional promoter who is serving as Captain Perry Jones' chief counsel, said Monday that if the decision were left to him he would use Barry MacKay and Alex Olmedo in the singles and play Richardson only in the doubles with Olmedo. Kramer added that Richardson was handicapped because he was a diabetic and that "I doubt if we can win by playing him in both the singles and the doubles."

Kuharich Set For Recruiting Talent

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — A hard-core recruiting program with enough athletic scholarships to provide talent equal to any of Notre Dame's future football opponents—that was the picture indicated Tuesday by the Irish's new head coach, Joe Kuharich.

Kuharich returned to his South Bend home and his alma mater, where he played for Elmer Layden 20 years ago, as successor to 30-year-old Terry Brennan. Brennan was released for not winning enough football games. He had a 32-18 record in five years.

Kuharich, who since 1954 has been coach of the professional Washington Redskins, said "I've had an understanding of the minds" with Notre Dame officials in regard to scholarships. He added:

"This is going to be a tough job, but all coaching jobs are tough. The number of scholarships that we give out to prospective athletics will be flexible and adequate and in the same proportion in comparison with the football teams we will meet."

Jordan To Meet Alvaro Gutierrez

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Newly crowned Welterweight Champion Don Jordan will meet Mexico's Alvaro Gutierrez in a non-title, 10-round fight here Jan. 22.

It will be the first bout for Jordan since he lifted the crown from Virgil Akins Dec. 5.

Matchmaker George Parnassus, who closed the deal Tuesday for the Olympic Auditorium, said Jordan will receive $12,500 and Gutierrez $7,500.

The scrap will not be televised.

Robertson Has Good Foul Mark

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—All-American Oscar Robertson, the nation's leading basketball scorer last season, may not end up as the highest scorer of all time this season.

But the "Big-O" is almost a cinch to become the "most fouled performer of the year."

In five games to date, Robertson has shot 84 charity throws. He hit 68 of them for a completion mark of 81 per cent.

GOP Club Wins

The Frostburg Republican Club defeated the Cumberland Loyal Order of Moose, 2-1, in an Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League match last night. Bill Hyde of the GOP was high scorer with 23 points while Art Gellner had 19 for the Moose in a match moved ahead from Christmas Day.

Pettit Pacing NBA Scoring; Has 768 Points

Russell Leading Rebounder In Loop

NEW YORK (UPI) —Bob Pettit, Bill Russell, Bill Sharman, Kenny Sears and Dick McGuire remained on top Tuesday in the National Basketball Association's various individual departments.

Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks led the scoring race with 768 points for a 28.4-point average. Paul Arizin of the Philadelphia Warriors was second with 680 points and Elgin Baylor of the Minneapolis Lakers was third with 670.

Russell of the Boston Celtics was the No. 1 rebounder with 585 recoveries for a 22.5 average per game. Pettit was second with 467 rebounds for a 17.3 average. Baylor was third with 419 for a 16.1 average.

Sharman of the Celtics led in free throw accuracy, sinking 121 of 129 for a .938 percentage. Sears was second. Sears led in field goal accuracy with 194 baskets in 370 tries for a .524 mark. Sam Jones of Boston was runnerup with a .484 percentage and McGuire was third at .472. McGuire led in assists with 208 to Bob Cousy's 191. However the Boston star had averaged 7.6 assists per game against McGuire's 7.2.

Dolph Schayes of the Syracuse Nationals now is the league's all-time field goal leader with a lifetime total of 4,099, breaking the mark of 4,098 set by George Mikan of Minneapolis.

Giants' Grier Unable To Play

Several Other N.Y. Players Are Injured

NEW YORK (AP) — Roosevelt Grier, 270-pound defensive tackle of the New York football Giants, was placed on the doubtful list for Sunday's title game with Baltimore because of knee and arm injuries.

Grier was unable to participate in Tuesday's workout at Yankee Stadium. Coach Jim Lee Howell said the loss of Grier would be a terrific blow.

Chances are Grier will come around in time for the big game for the championship of the National Football League. If not, he will be replaced by M. L. Brackett or rookie Frank Youso.

Bob Mischak, a starting guard on offense; Kyle Rote, one of the offensive ends, and Alex Webster, a regular halfback, also were unable to work out due to injuries.

Howell called a long workout for Wednesday. He will give the team a day off Thursday and wind up preparations with an afternoon drill Friday.

Imminent Sale Blow To Comiskey

CHICAGO (AP)—Before spring training is under way baseball's flamboyant Bill Veeck is expected to rule the Chicago White Sox.

An informed source said Tuesday there was every indication the club's 3,235 shares controlled by Mrs. Dorothy Comiskey Rigney, will be sold to a syndicate headed by Veeck.

The imminent sale of the majority holding would be a blow to Chuck Comiskey, Dorothy's 32-year-old brother, who owns or will own 2,735 shares by his 35th birthday.

Comiskey, now a White Sox vice president along with Dorothy's husband, John Rigney, held high hopes of buying out Dorothy, with whom he has been embroiled in suits over disposition of stock willed by their mother and late club president, Mrs. Grace Comiskey.

It was learned Tuesday Dorothy can sell her share of the club without settlement of suits and countersuits which will not affect the sharing of stock as fixed in Mrs. Comiskey's will.

Apparently Veeck has come up with a bid that an inside source claims will set the cash value of the club at approximately five million dollars. The makeup of Veeck's syndicate is not known other than that Hank Greenberg, former major league star and former Cleveland Indian part owner, is reported to be a member.

Sugar Ray Dares NBA To Take Crown

Middleweight King Wants Fair Shake

NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson Tuesday dared the National Boxing Assn. to take away his world middleweight crown but warned the NBA's individual members to beware of a legal counter-punch if they did.

The 38-year-old champion blasted an NBA ultimatum that he announce his title plans by Jan. 11 or face drastic action as "a nasty thing" and "unfair."

Arch Hindman, NBA executive secretary, issued the edict on Saturday. Rules of the NBA, which governs boxing in all states except New York and Massachusetts, require a champion to defend his title at least once every six months.

Robinson regained the middleweight title in Chicago last March 25, nine months ago, by dethroning Carmen Basilio in their return fight.

"Let 'em take the title away now if they want," said Robinson heatedly. "They don't have to wait until Jan. 11. They can declare it vacant now. The way the tax situation is I can't fight again this year and realize anything.

"All I want is equal treatment. If they want to take action against me, why didn't they do it to Floyd Patterson, Archie Moore and Alphonse Halimi. They were 'way over the six months period. If they're going to enforce the rule, then let 'em enforce it against everyone.

"I'm going to talk things over with Truman Gibson (president of the International Boxing Club) after the holidays. Then we'll see what the situation is."

"Let 'em take the title," echoed Robinson's advisor, George Gainford. "I dare 'em to. We'll sue every member of the NBA individually."

Patterson, the heavyweight champion, went nearly a year without risking his crown. He knocked out Pete Rademacher on Aug. 22, 1957 and it wasn't until Aug. 18, 1958 that he met and stopped Roy Harris.

Moore, the light heavyweight boss, had a 15-month gap between defenses. The ancient battler knocked out Tony Anthony Sept. 20, 1957 and then kayoed Yvon Durelle in a thriller two weeks ago.

Halimi, the bantamweight king from Paris, has gone 13 months so far without putting his title on the line. He defeated Mexico's Raul (Raton) Macias on Nov. 6, 1957.

Seats Available

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants said Tuesday that about 15,000 bleacher and standing room tickets still were available for Sunday's championship playoff game with the Baltimore Colts.

Kentucky, N.C., Auburn Move Up In UPI Cage Poll

By JOHN GRIFFIN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Kentucky, North Carolina, and Auburn, winners of the first three major holiday basketball tournaments, received an added Christmas present Tuesday — higher national ratings.

The UPI Board of Coaches, in issuing its weekly ratings of the nation's best major college teams, tabbed Cincinnati as the No. 1 team in the country for the third straight week, and with a higher point total than last week.

But Kentucky, which won its own invitational tournament over a blue-ribbon field, was boosted from third to second place; North Carolina, surprise winner of the Blue Grass Invitational, jumped all the way from 14th to fifth; and Auburn, winner of the Birmingham Classic and owner of a 61-game winning streak that the longest in the nation, jumped from 35th to ninth place.

Cincinnati received 25 first-place votes from the 35 coaches who comprise the board, while Kentucky received eight and Kansas State two. Voting was based on games played through Sat., Dec. 20.

Though Cincinnati's 339 - point (based on points allotted 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 for votes from first through 10th place) was two more than last week and only 11 short of a perfect score, the Oscar Robertson - led Bearcats actually saw their lead over the second-place team reduced.

Cincinnati led Kansas State by 53 points in last week's ratings, but topped Kentucky this week by just 33.

Kansas State dropped to third place and was followed by Michigan State, North Carolina, North Carolina State, West Virginia, Savier of Ohio, Auburn, and, in a tie for 10th place, California and Northwestern.

The "second 10" group included Bradley in 12th place, Texas Christian 13th, Mississippi State 14th, St. John's 15th, Purdue 16th, St. Bonaventure 17th, Washington and Utah tied for 18th; and St. Joseph's (Pa.) and Indiana tied for 20th.

Dropping out of the top 10 were St. Joseph's, which had been ninth before losing to Kansas State, and Texas Christian, which had been 10th.

Net Star Irked By Illness Talk

Richardson Says He Will Play 3 Matches

BRISBANE (AP)—An incensed Ham Richardson lashed out at his critics Tuesday and announced he fully intended to play in both the singles and doubles in the Davis Cup Challenge Round against Austria next week.

"All this talk about my diabetes and my physical condition is poppycock," the country's No. 1 player said. "I feel wonderful, I am playing the best tennis of my life. I feel I am the best player and that our best chance of winning the cup depends on my playing all three days."

Jack Kramer, professional promoter who is serving as Captain Perry Jones' chief counsel, said Monday that if the decision were left to him he would use Barry MacKay and Alex Olmedo in the singles and play Richardson only in the doubles with Olmedo. Kramer added that Richardson was handicapped because he was a diabetic and that "I doubt if we can win by playing him in both the singles and the doubles."

Nitime Wins At Tropical

Favorite Edges Fabulous Fox

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 23 (AP) — J. R. Weiner's Nitime gave the favorite players in the crowd of 6,896 cause to rejoice as he scored a two and a half length victory in the featured seventh race today at Tropical Park.

The $3.40 choice outran Robert Lankenau's Fabulous Fox in 1:43 for a mile and a sixteenth. Fabulous Fox led E. R. Morris' Negro-trece by two lengths. J. C. Dobkin's Point Of Order was a half length out of the money.

Nitime and Fabulous Fox dueled for command from the start. Sam Boulmetis maintained the rail position with Nitime throughout. Fabulous Fox held a head advantage along the backstretch but Nitime shoved his nose to the fore entering the stretch.

Nitime finally began to shake off Fabulous Fox inside the eighth pole and had a clear lead by the sixteenth pole. Boulmetis took no chances and rapped his mount three times with the whip nearing the 70 yard pole. Nitime gradually was increasing his margin at the finish.

Fabulous Fox had no difficulty taking second money from Negro-trece. The latter's mild rally carried him from fifth to third entering the stretch but he lacked the speed to continue his rally. Point Of Order came from last place to be fourth.

Baltimore Allotted 6,000 More Tickets

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore Colt fans were allotted 6,000 more tickets Tuesday for the National Football League championship game between Baltimore and the New York Giants Sunday.

Colt officials had no explanation for the windfall.

Baltimore's regular allotment of 15,000 seats was snapped up Monday by season ticket holders.

Ticket manager Ray Gilland said the new tickets — $4 bleacher seats—would be offered between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. Wednesday for the general public. If not sold by then—an unlikely possibility—the remainder will be sold Friday.

Corey Is Named Bowdoin Coach

BRUNSWICK, Maine (UPI) — C. Nelson Corey was named as Bowdoin College football coach on Tuesday night to replace former Notre Dame great Adam Walsh.

Walsh, an All-American under Knute Rockne, resigned in October after 20 years as coach.

The 43-year-old Corey has been hockey coach but will give up those duties to concentrate on football. A Lynn, Mass., native, he played tackle under Walsh for Bowdoin from 1957-59. He also participated in hockey and baseball at Bowdoin, winning nine varsity letters.

Wilcox Retains Scoring Lead In W.Va. Loop

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP) — Paul Wilcox of Davis and Elkins held onto the top spots in scoring and rebounding through another week of West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference basketball.

The latest report on the records of the players in the 17-team conference was issued Tuesday by its executive secretary, George Springer.

Wilcox holds a big lead in scoring, but is being hard pressed as the No. 1 man in picking off rebounds.

His average remained stationary at 34.2 points. Bill Grant of Shepherd, who took over second place, has 25 poinst, while Frde Gandt of Salem is third with 24.6.

Last week's runnerup, Wayne Dawson of West Virginia Tech, slipped to fifth place with a 22.9 average.

Ernie Johnson Signs With Birds

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles will have two long drinks of water named Johnson on their pitching mound next season.

Ernie Johnson, 6-foot-4 righthander released earlier this month by the Milwaukee Braves, has signed a 1959 contract.

And, of course, there is Connie Johnson, 6-foot-4 righthander and the Orioles winningest pitcher in 1957 when he won 14 and lost 11 and had an ERA of 3.20. Last season, Connie won 6, lost 9 and had a 3.89 ERA.

Ernie Johnson, a native of Brattleboro, Vt., who now resides in Milwaukee, appeared in 15 games in relief for the National League Champion Braves last season, winning 3 and losing 1. In eight seasons with the Braves in Milwaukee and Boston, he had a 36-22 record.

Nitime Wins At Tropical

Favorite Edges Fabulous Fox

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 23 (AP) — J. R. Weiner's Nitime gave the favorite players in the crowd of 6,896 cause to rejoice as he scored a two and a half length victory in the featured seventh race today at Tropical Park.

The $3.40 choice outran Robert Lankenau's Fabulous Fox in 1:43 for a mile and a sixteenth. Fabulous Fox led E. R. Morris' Negro-trece by two lengths. J. C. Dobkin's Point Of Order was a half length out of the money.

Nitime and Fabulous Fox dueled for command from the start. Sam Boulmetis maintained the rail position with Nitime throughout. Fabulous Fox held a head advantage along the backstretch but Nitime shoved his nose to the fore entering the stretch.

Nitime finally began to shake off Fabulous Fox inside the eighth pole and had a clear lead by the sixteenth pole. Boulmetis took no chances and rapped his mount three times with the whip nearing the 70 yard pole. Nitime gradually was increasing his margin at the finish.

Fabulous Fox had no difficulty taking second money from Negro-trece. The latter's mild rally carried him from fifth to third entering the stretch but he lacked the speed to continue his rally. Point Of Order came from last place to be fourth.

Baltimore Allotted 6,000 More Tickets

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore Colt fans were allotted 6,000 more tickets Tuesday for the National Football League championship game between Baltimore and the New York Giants Sunday.

Colt officials had no explanation for the windfall.

Baltimore's regular allotment of 15,000 seats was snapped up Monday by season ticket holders.

Ticket manager Ray Gilland said the new tickets — $4 bleacher seats—would be offered between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. Wednesday for the general public. If not sold by then—an unlikely possibility—the remainder will be sold Friday.

Corey Is Named Bowdoin Coach

BRUNSWICK, Maine (UPI) — C. Nelson Corey was named as Bowdoin College football coach on Tuesday night to replace former Notre Dame great Adam Walsh.

Walsh, an All-American under Knute Rockne, resigned in October after 20 years as coach.

The 43-year-old Corey has been hockey coach but will give up those duties to concentrate on football. A Lynn, Mass., native, he played tackle under Walsh for Bowdoin from 1957-59. He also participated in hockey and baseball at Bowdoin, winning nine varsity letters.

Wilcox Retains Scoring Lead In W.Va. Loop

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP) — Paul Wilcox of Davis and Elkins held onto the top spots in scoring and rebounding through another week of West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference basketball.

The latest report on the records of the players in the 17-team conference was issued Tuesday by its executive secretary, George Springer.

Wilcox holds a big lead in scoring, but is being hard pressed as the No. 1 man in picking off rebounds.

His average remained stationary at 34.2 points. Bill Grant of Shepherd, who took over second place, has 25 poinst, while Frde Gandt of Salem is third with 24.6.

Last week's runnerup, Wayne Dawson of West Virginia Tech, slipped to fifth place with a 22.9 average.

Ernie Johnson Signs With Birds

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles will have two long drinks of water named Johnson on their pitching mound next season.

Ernie Johnson, 6-foot-4 righthander released earlier this month by the Milwaukee Braves, has signed a 1959 contract.

And, of course, there is Connie Johnson, 6-foot-4 righthander and the Orioles winningest pitcher in 1957 when he won 14 and lost 11 and had an ERA of 3.20. Last season, Connie won 6, lost 9 and had a 3.89 ERA.

Ernie Johnson, a native of Brattleboro, Vt., who now resides in Milwaukee, appeared in 15 games in relief for the National League Champion Braves last season, winning 3 and losing 1. In eight seasons with the Braves in Milwaukee and Boston, he had a 36-22 record.

City Backs Plan For Memorial Site

The Mayor and Council indicated Monday it would approve a site in Constitution Park for the Mrs. Gilbert (Helen) Miller memorial.

In her lifetime, Mrs. Miller had been actively associated with county and civic projects and especially interested in conservation, the preservation of wildlife and bird life.

Yesterday, former Chief Judge George Henderson and Dr. Rudolph Steinberger appeared in behalf of a fund-raising committee to present plans for the memorial in the ballfield area of the park which overlooks the city. They were introduced by Commissioner John J. Long.

The memorial will be in the form of a planter bench with a small pool located in a landscaped area.

City Backs Plan For Memorial Site

The Mayor and Council indicated Monday it would approve a site in Constitution Park for the Mrs. Gilbert (Helen) Miller memorial.

In her lifetime, Mrs. Miller had been actively associated with county and civic projects and especially interested in conservation, the preservation of wildlife and bird life.

Yesterday, former Chief Judge George Henderson and Dr. Rudolph Steinberger appeared in behalf of a fund-raising committee to present plans for the memorial in the ballfield area of the park which overlooks the city. They were introduced by Commissioner John J. Long.

The memorial will be in the form of a planter bench with a small pool located in a landscaped area.

Antarctica, the fifth largest continent, is two-thirds unexplored territory.

In Memoriam

A Christmas tribute in memory of our beloved son, Ronald Gene Morris, who passed away May 4, 1958.
There's a sadness on this Christmas Day
And only God has known the cost,
Of broken hearts that never heal
And sorrow for our dear Son lost.
Through weary days and long dark nights,
Our hearts cry out with inward pain
That our strong boy so full of life,
Must go and not come home again!
He is our star, our star of gold
And though the darkness may increase
Through tear-dimmed eyes, its guiding light
Leads on to hope and lasting peace.
Loving MOM, DAD, BROTHER AND SISTERS

In Memoriam

A Christmas tribute in memory of our beloved son, Ronald Gene Morris, who passed away May 4, 1958.
There's a sadness on this Christmas Day
And only God has known the cost,
Of broken hearts that never heal
And sorrow for our dear Son lost.
Through weary days and long dark nights.
Our hearts cry out with inward pain
That our strong boy so full of life,
Must go and not come home again!
He is our star, our star of gold
And though the darkness may increase
Through tear-dimmed eyes, its guiding light
Leads on to hope and lasting peace.
Loving MOM, DAD, BROTHER AND SISTERS

Morgan County Man Is Found Murdered

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP) —The remains of a man missing more than four months were found in three shallow graves Tuesday. State Police Sgt. R. C. Culp said it was definitely murder.

The victim, missing since last Aug. 1, was Otis S. Poole of Berkeley Springs, 42-year-old widower and employe for many years of the Newton D. Baker Veterans Administration center.

Sgt. Culp said Charles Andrew Gregory, 21, of Martinsburg, led police to the remains and was being held for questioning—without charge—in the Berkeley County jail.

The three graves were found on a farm adjacent to the Martinsburg Municipal Airport, three miles south of the city. The sergeant said Gregory's mother, Mrs. Agnes May Walker, lives on the farm.

Gregory is serving a 20-day jail sentence on a minor traffic charge. Also being questioned in the case, St. Culp said, is 17-year-old Douglas Mayhew of Martinsburg, sentenced to the State Reformatory only Tuesday, on a purse snatching charge.

A coroner's jury viewed the remains Tuesday, Culp said, and will reconvene after Christmas to continue its inquest. Police sent out a pickup order for two other persons.

Sgt. Culp said Gregory was picked up in November in Berkeley Springs, which is in Morgan County, and was turned over to Berkeley County authorities last Saturday.

Bolyard Obtains Building Permit

I. M. Bolyard of McCoole yesterday obtained a permit from the Allegany County assessing department for construction of a $10,000 frame dwelling in Election District 31.

The new house will be built on a 9.1 acre tract on 21st Bridge Lane near McCoole.

Crew Cleans Streets

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — The Town of Moorefield had a crew of workmen cleaning the town streets for the Christmas holiday season. As this section escaped the snows which have fallen all around the South Branch Valley area the excessive amount of dirt from melting snow and mud under car fenders had not accumulated.

In World War II, United States Army and Air Force total casualties amounted to nine per cent of a total mobilization of 10 million, 400 thousand.

Grace Under The Christmas Tree

You may be the honored one who climbs the ladder to crown the tree top with its star. But you're less likely to be up in the air literally at Christmas time than down on the floor, placing and opening gifts under the tree and playing with the children. Let's hope you're a model of sure-footed grace on the ladder, but let's do something about it if sinking to the floor and getting up again is a chore and a strain to you.

You'll be lowering yourself, seating yourself on the floor and rising to an audience when all those relatives and guests gather 'round. It will be very nice to know that you make a pretty picture, and you will if you follow this method and make practice trys beforehand. Never mind how complicated the instructions sound — the whole thing is so much easier in action.

To seat yourself: Stand tall and take a small step forward with your left foot. Bend both knees as you slide the toe of your right foot behind you along the floor. When your knee touches the floor, center all your weight on it. At this point, you're in a kneeling position, erect from the knees up.

Now, simply let your weight roll easily over onto your right hip and sink down. Not too fast there — sink lightly, don't go down with a bounce. Your feet take care of themselves. The left heel draws back to touch the right toe quite naturally. To hold the comely position, square your shoulders and clasp your hands on your knee.

To rise: Lean forward to come up on your knees; slide your right foot forward to rest firmly on the floor; balance your weight between your right foot and left toe and elevate yourself slowly.

agencies or by enactment of new taxes.

Send Letter

A letter to the lawmakers was approved by the board noting that if the revenue became available it would favorably consider increases in the recommended budgets to restore the four cuts and provide more money for the mental health program, additional funds for institutions of higher education, and more money for both the Department of Labor and the Board of Probation and Parole.

It was learned that board members felt it would take about $3,000,000 to restore the budget curtailments it ordered and provide the services for the other agencies.

The budget for West Virginia University was reduced to $6,600,134, some $71,800 below the current appropriation. It meant elimination of a request for a vice president and a secretary to the new official, a purchasing director, an increase in aid to veterinary students and reductions in current expenses.

Also removed from the original document were funds allocated to Shepherd College — $66,000—and Concord College — $138,000 — to provide movable furniture in new dormitories under construction, in fulfilment of contractual obligations with the federal government.

Grant Federal Request

The major increase of $139,600 went to the Surplus Commodities division of the Department of Public Assistance to bring that agency up to federal standards. The U. S. Department of Agriculture had notified the state it would cease shipments of surplus commodities effective next March 31 unless changes in the current administration of the program are made.

Another 26,600 was added to the West Virginia Training School at St. Marys budget to provide for eight additional attendants, two new nurses and additional supplies.

The board also restored, on advice of the attorney general's office, $47,000 sliced from the criminal charges account to pay witnesses and jurors in criminal proceedings. The reduction had been made by the Budget Department in its original recommendations.

While adjusting proposed expenditures in the budget the board also approved a higher estimate of tax receipts for the next fiscal year. They are some $1,580,000 above those originally prepared by Vieweg's office.

Of 16 sources of income, 14 were raised, one decreased and one left at its original figure. The board decided to drop the gross sales tax collections $100,000 to $32,250,000 in the major changes. These two taxes provide more than $82,000,000 of the $109,640,000 anticipated collections.

County Begins Surplus Food Distribution

A total of 1,200 persons obtained surplus food Monday during the first of a three-day distribution program by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

The food is being distributed at the old Royal Dairy building, corner Arch and Second streets, under a "crash program" designed to see that as many people as possible obtain the five foodstuffs for Christmas.

A program for January will be scheduled so that distribution can be made in various communities similar to the plan as operated several years ago. There have been numerous complaints from individuals and groups about having only one distribution point, but members of the board said that if this procedure had not been followed no one would have received food this month.

A representative of the U. S. Department of Agriculture was at the distribution center Monday to check the operation of the program. He inspected the warehousing of the foods and instruct- Grant Wiebel, supervisor of the program, to transfer the cheese from cold storage to dry storage as the commodity would keep just as well in the latter warehouse and would also save the county expensive cold storage charges.

All the rest of her estate was left equally to her five sons, James Albert Ritchie, Kenneth Ritchie, Ray Freeman Ritchie, Glen Ritchie, Ralph Gerald Ritchie and one daughter, Mrs. Ruth E. Skidmore.

Board Urges Quick Cinder Work On Roads

A lengthy discussion was held yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners with Harry Skelly, roads supervisor, over the cindering and salting of county roads during snowing weather.

Commissioner John J. Rowan, board president, brought up the matter in view of three accidents which occurred on a weekend recently on the Midlothian Road. Commissioner Rowan said some emergency plan should be devised to take care of such road conditions, especially in the higher points of the county.

Skelly said that he had received a call concerning the first accident, which was caused by an icy spot about 900 feet on one side of the roadway. He dispatched a truck with cinders from the Knapps Meadow county garage but by the time it arrived two more accidents occurred.

The board instructed Skelly to check into the matter and report later what could be done as far as a stand-by crew or some similar emergency program during the winter season.

Skelly also discussed briefly the matter of road construction. He said several organizations in the Town Creek and Bear Hill Roads area have asked that some of the 13.45 miles of these roads be hardsurfaced.

Skelly was instructed to check into the county's ability to enter into construction of hardsurface roads in the county and report back later his recommendation.

Morgan County Man Is Found Murdered

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP) —The remains of a man missing more than four months were found in three shallow graves Tuesday. State Police Sgt. R. C. Culp said it was definitely murder.

The victim, missing since last Aug. 1, was Otis S. Poole of Berkeley Springs, 42-year-old widower and employe for many years of the Newton D. Baker Veterans Administration center.

Sgt. Culp said Charles Andrew Gregory, 21, of Martinsburg, led police to the remains and was being held for questioning—without charge—in the Berkeley County jail.

The three graves were found on a farm adjacent to the Martinsburg Municipal Airport, three miles south of the city. The sergeant said Gregory's mother, Mrs. Agnes May Walker, lives on the farm.

Gregory is serving a 20-day jail sentence on a minor traffic charge. Also being questioned in the case, St. Culp said, is 17-year-old Douglas Mayhew of Martinsburg, sentenced to the State Reformatory only Tuesday, on a purse snatching charge.

A coroner's jury viewed the remains Tuesday, Culp said, and will reconvene after Christmas to continue its inquest. Police sent out a pickup order for two other persons.

Sgt. Culp said Gregory was picked up in November in Berkeley Springs, which is in Morgan County, and was turned over to Berkeley County authorities last Saturday.

Grace Under The Christmas Tree

You may be the honored one who climbs the ladder to crown the tree top with its star. But you're less likely to be up in the air literally at Christmas time than down on the floor, placing and opening gifts under the tree and playing with the children. Let's hope you're a model of sure-footed grace on the ladder, but let's do something about it if sinking to the floor and getting up again is a chore and a strain to you.

You'll be lowering yourself, seating yourself on the floor and rising to an audience when all those relatives and guests gather 'round. It will be very nice to know that you make a pretty picture, and you will if you follow this method and make practice trys beforehand. To seat yourself: Stand tall and take a small step forward with your left foot. Bend both knees as you slide the toe of your right foot behind you along the floor. When your knee touches the floor, center all your weight on it. At this point, you're in a kneeling position, erect from the knees up.

Now, simply let your weight roll easily over onto your right hip and sink down. Not too fast there — sink lightly, don't go down with a bounce. Your feet take care of themselves. The left heel draws back to touch the right toe quite naturally. To hold the comely position, square your shoulders and clasp your hands on your knee.

agencies or by enactment of new taxes.

Send Letter

A letter to the lawmakers was approved by the board noting that if the revenue became available it would favorably consider increases in the recommended budgets to restore the four cuts and provide more money for the mental health program, additional funds for institutions of higher education, and more money for both the Department of Labor and the Board of Probation and Parole.

It was learned that board members felt it would take about $3,000,000 to restore the budget curtailments it ordered and provide the services for the other agencies.

The budget for West Virginia University was reduced to $6,600,134, some $71,800 below the current appropriation. It meant elimination of a request for a vice president and a secretary to the new official, a purchasing director, an increase in aid to veterinary students and reductions in current expenses.

Also removed from the original document were funds allocated to Shepherd College — $66,000—and Concord College — $138,000 — to provide movable furniture in new dormitories under construction, in fulfilment of contractual obligations with the federal government.

Grant Federal Request

The major increase of $139,600 went to the Surplus Commodities division of the Department of Public Assistance to bring that agency up to federal standards. The U. S. Department of Agriculture had notified the state it would cease shipments of surplus commodities effective next March 31 unless changes in the current administration of the program are made.

Another 26,600 was added to the West Virginia Training School at St. Marys budget to provide for eight additional attendants, two new nurses and additional supplies.

The board also restored, on advice of the attorney general's office, $47,000 sliced from the criminal charges account to pay witnesses and jurors in criminal proceedings. The reduction had been made by the Budget Department in its original recommendations.

While adjusting proposed expenditures in the budget the board also approved a higher estimate of tax receipts for the next fiscal year. They are some $1,580,000 above those originally prepared by Vieweg's office.

Of 16 sources of income, 14 were raised, one decreased and one left at its original figure. The board decided to drop the gross sales tax collections $100,000 to $32,250,000 in the major changes. These two taxes provide more than $82,000,000 of the $109,640,000 anticipated collections.

County Begins Surplus Food Distribution

A total of 1,200 persons obtained surplus food Monday during the first of a three-day distribution program by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

The food is being distributed at the old Royal Dairy building, corner Arch and Second streets, under a "crash program" designed to see that as many people as possible obtain the five foodstuffs for Christmas.

A program for January will be scheduled so that distribution can be made in various communities similar to the plan as operated several years ago. There have been numerous complaints from individuals and groups about having only one distribution point, but members of the board said that if this procedure had not been followed no one would have received food this month.

A representative of the U. S. Department of Agriculture was at the distribution center Monday to check the operation of the program. He inspected the warehousing of the foods and instruct- Grant Wiebel, supervisor of the program, to transfer the cheese from cold storage to dry storage as the commodity would keep just as well in the latter warehouse and would also save the county expensive cold storage charges.

Board Urges Quick Cinder Work On Roads

A lengthy discussion was held yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners with Harry Skelly, roads supervisor, over the cindering and salting of county roads during snowing weather.

Commissioner John J. Rowan, board president, brought up the matter in view of three accidents which occurred on a weekend recently on the Midlothian Road. Commissioner Rowan said some emergency plan should be devised to take care of such road conditions, especially in the higher points of the county.

Skelly said that he had received a call concerning the first accident, which was caused by an icy spot about 900 feet on one side of the roadway. He dispatched a truck with cinders from the Knapps Meadow county garage but by the time it arrived two more accidents occurred.

The board instructed Skelly to check into the matter and report later what could be done as far as a stand-by crew or some similar emergency program during the winter season.

Skelly also discussed briefly the matter of road construction. He said several organizations in the Town Creek and Bear Hill Roads area have asked that some of the 13.45 miles of these roads be hardsurfaced.

Skelly was instructed to check into the county's ability to enter into construction of hardsurface roads in the county and report back later his recommendation.

Stock Market Declines On Heavy Profit-Taking

NEW YORK (UPI) — Profit-taking knocked $1,500,000,000 from stock market valuations in a less active session Tuesday.

Traders were mindful that this was the last day for making profit sales to include the profit in the 1958 income tax. After Tuesday profit-taking results carry over into the 1959 tax year.

Losses of a point or more were plentiful. Zenith grave up 7. Du Pont dropped 4. Johnson & Johnson, International Salt, Goodyear, and Youngstown each fell 3. Declines of 2 or more appeared in Barber Oil, Gulf, Texas Co., Republic Steel, and Continental Steel.

Volume at 2,870,000 shares was the smallest since Sept. 10 and compared with 3,030,000 Monday.

Features on the upside were the two big electrical equipment manufacturers. General Electric rose 2⅛ and Westinghouse was up 1⅛. There was nothing particular in the news to account for these gains.

Both the Pennsylvania and New York Central rose in the rails, reflecting reports that merger studies are in their final phase and better earnings outlooks. The Pennsy added a point and Central rose ⅜.

Opening lead: Ace of ♦.

This column has often decried the overuse of Blackwood by players who are looking for slam. The convention was designed primarily to stay out of unmakable slams and yet many of its users automatically get themselves overboard when they utter the magic words.

When clubs are the established trump, it is rare indeed that the Blackwood convention is available. North in today's hand was lucky not to have been punished for his indiscretion. Observe that South might have had an exemplary opening bid with only one ace.

It seems to this department that North could make a distinct effort to reach slam without incurring the risk of getting there with only one ace in the South hand. After South's two spade bid North bids three clubs. It should then be his intention over South's next call to jump to five clubs. If South has two aces, he can afford to accept the invitation to slam.

Declarer had to perform well to bring in the slam. West opened the ace of diamonds, and shifted to a heart. There was no hurry about the heart finesse, so declarer went up with the king and drew trumps. He was then faced with the choice of finessing in spades or hearts. Observe that if East holds the queen of spades, three heart discards can be taken out of dummy, one on the king of diamonds and two on the ace-king of spades. Declarer decided his chances would be increased by cashing the two high hearts first. If the queen fell his problems would be at an end. If the queen failed to drop, declarer had another chance by way of the spade finesse.

He therefore played the ace of hearts, and when the queen failed to appear, he led the singleton spade from dummy and put in the jack. On the ace-king of spades and king of diamonds, he discarded the dummy's small hearts to complete an ambitious assignment.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Prices closed weak for most grains Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed off 1⅛ to 1⅜ cent; corn (old) off ⅜ cents; (new) unchanged to off ⅛ cent; oats off ⅜ to ½ cent; rye off ⅝ to ⅛ cnt; soybeans off ⅜ to 1⅜ cents.

Commission houses led the liquidating movement in wheat. Export houses bought on a scale down.

A good volume of spreading in corn generated most of the session's business. Northwest brokers sold July corn. Commission and commercial houses were on both sides of the market.

There was a moderate decline in oats. March and May deliveries were sold by commission and cash houses. Some commercial buying was present.

Quantities of January soybeans were bought by exporters and commercial interests. The market was lower, though, under heavy commission house selling. Oil prices reached a firm level, but meal declined.

Grains at outside markets were heavy. The range:

Stock Market Declines On Heavy Profit-Taking

NEW YORK (UPI) — Profit-taking knocked $1,500,000,000 from stock market valuations in a less active session Tuesday.

Traders were mindful that this was the last day for making profit sales to include the profit in the 1958 income tax. After Tuesday profit-taking results carry over into the 1959 tax year.

Losses of a point or more were plentiful. Zenith grave up 7. Du Pont dropped 4. Johnson & Johnson, International Salt, Goodyear, and Youngstown each fell 3. Declines of 2 or more appeared in Barber Oil, Gulf, Texas Co., Republic Steel, and Continental Steel.

Volume at 2,870,000 shares was the smallest since Sept. 10 and compared with 3,030,000 Monday.

Features on the upside were the two big electrical equipment manufacturers. General Electric rose 2⅛ and Westinghouse was up 1⅛. There was nothing particular in the news to account for these gains.

Both the Pennsylvania and New York Central rose in the rails, reflecting reports that merger studies are in their final phase and better earnings outlooks. The Pennsy added a point and Central rose ⅜.

This column has often decried the overuse of Blackwood by players who are looking for slam. The convention was designed primarily to stay out of unmakable slams and yet many of its users automatically get themselves overboard when they utter the magic words.

When clubs are the established trump, it is rare indeed that the Blackwood convention is available. North in today's hand was lucky not to have been punished for his indiscretion. Observe that South might have had an exemplary opening bid with only one ace.

It seems to this department that North could make a distinct effort to reach slam without incurring the risk of getting there with only one ace in the South hand. After South's two spade bid North bids three clubs. It should then be his intention over South's next call to jump to five clubs. If South has two aces, he can afford to accept the invitation to slam.

Declarer had to perform well to bring in the slam. West opened the ace of diamonds, and shifted to a heart. There was no hurry about the heart finesse, so declarer went up with the king and drew trumps. He was then faced with the choice of finessing in spades or hearts. Observe that if East holds the queen of spades, three heart discards can be taken out of dummy, one on the king of diamonds and two on the ace-king of spades. Declarer decided his chances would be increased by cashing the two high hearts first. If the queen fell his problems would be at an end. If the queen failed to drop, declarer had another chance by way of the spade finesse.

He therefore played the ace of hearts, and when the queen failed to appear, he led the singleton spade from dummy and put in the jack. On the ace-king of spades and king of diamonds, he discarded the dummy's small hearts to complete an ambitious assignment.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Prices closed weak for most grains Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed off 1⅛ to 1⅜ cent; corn (old) off ⅜ cents; (new) unchanged to off ⅝ cent; oats off ⅝ to ½ cent; rye off ⅝ to ⅞ cnt; soybeans off ⅜ to 1⅜ cents.

Liquidation and increased hedge selling anchored prices in low tones and prevented any sizable advance.

Commission houses led the liquidating movement in wheat. Export houses bought on a scale down.

A good volume of spreading in corn generated most of the session's business. Northwest brokers sold July corn. Commission and commercial houses were on both sides of the market.

There was a moderate decline in oats. March and May deliveries were sold by commission and cash houses. Some commercial buying was present.

Quantities of January soybeans were bought by exporters and commercial interests. The market was lower, though, under heavy commission house selling. Oil prices reached a firm level, but meal declined.

Grains at outside markets were heavy. The range:

Local Firm Is Low Bidder On Route 36 Job

24-Foot Roadway Will Be Provided

The S. T. Brotemarkle Company of Cumberland yesterday submitted the lowest of four ids for the construction of 2.713 miles of new road on Maryland Route 36.

Bids on the project, which will eliminate one of the most treacherous stretches of highway in Allegany County, were opened yesterday by the State Roads Commission in Baltimore.

The Brotemarkle firm's apparent low bid was for $1,027,496.50.

Other bids for the project according to G. Bates Chaires, District 6 engineer, were:

Cumberland Contracting Company, Cumberland, $1,090,988.50; George F. Hazelwood Company, Cumberland, $1,103,908.93, and Burkholder and Burkholder, Winchester, Va., $1,159,463.90.

Must Move Creek

The contract will begin at the western end of the recently completed Route 36 at Corriganville and end one-third of a mile beyond Barrelville.

The project calls for the grading, drainage work and surfacing of a 24-foot-wide roadway which will eventually become part of a four-lane highway.

It will entail the moving of Jennings Run and there will be a 60-foot bridge over the creek in one spot.

Plans also provide for a pedestrian bridge at the intersection of Route 36 and 47, the Wellersburg Road, and an entrance bridge.

The present stretch of road is narrow and is hemmed in on one side by Jennings Run and on the other side by cliffs.

The project will be a continuation of SRC plans for a modern highway from Route 40 in the Narrows to Frostburg by way of Route 36.

No Hearing Needed

The SRC this year completed the new intersection of Routes 40 and 36 in the Narrows and four miles of new road from the Narrows to the western outskirts of Corriganville.

When the contract was advertised, the SRC served notice that persons affected by the project could request a hearing.

Mr. Chaires said a hearing was not needed, as the four persons who inquired by phone to learn how it affected their homes were invited to come to the district office.

All were satisfied, he said, after seeing plans for the new road.

Couple Killed On Turnpike

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—An Illinois couple was killed and their daughter injured Tuesday in a one car wreck on the Pennsylvania Turnpike about 16 miles east of Somerset.

State Police identified the victimes as Louis W. Warren, 59, of Hillside, Ill., and his wife, Mildred, 55.

Their daughter, Mildred Lois, 18, was reported in fair condition at Bedford County Memorial Hospital suffering from a broken leg, shock and other injuries.

Police said the car, driven by Warren, skidded on the wet roadway on a curve near the Allegheny Tunnel and plowed into a steel barrier post on the medial strip.

PPG Contract Talks Recessed

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Representatives of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. and the United Glass and Ceramics Union Tuesday returned home after recessing contract talks here until Sunday morning.

After a week of steady essions, both joint and separate, the negotiators and Federal Mediator Hayward Montoney decided at midnight Monday to have a holiday recess.

"There can be no statement as to progress or lack of progress at this time," Montoney said.

Negotiations were held Monday morning, afternoon and night with only time out for meals in an effort to reach a settlement prior to Christmas.

Agreement on a new contract would send more than 12,000 strikers back to their jobs at six Pittsburgh Plate plants in five states, including one at Mount Vernon, Ohio.

They have been off the job for two and a half months.

Visiting Relatives

Mrs. Margaret Growden and son Ronald, Route 3, Bedford Road, are visiting relatives in Hialeah and Miami, Fla., during the holidays.

LAST SHOPPING DAY TO CHRISTMAS

New Yule Gift Idea: Polio Shot

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dr. Perry F. Prather, state director of health, Tuesday urged Marylanders of all ages to immunize themselves and their children against polio.

He strongly endorsed the recent statement by Dr. Leroy E. Burney, surgeon general of the United States who said:

"At this Christmas season of the year I can think of no better lifetime gift which a parent can make to a child than to give him protection against polio."

Dr. Prather said progress toward control of polio in Maryland has been good. But a recent third anniversary review by the Department of Health, Dr. Prather said, showed that even in the best covered and most vulnerable younger age group — birth to 20 years — about 30 per cent had not been completely immunized. That percentage had not received the required series of three injections of the Salk polio vaccine.

"There is absolutely no room for complacency," Dr. Prather said.

He cited national figures which show 1,815 cases of paralytic polio for the first nine months of this year, 238 cases more than in the same period of 1957.

In six states most seriously affected, he noted, the majority of paralytic cases — 416 out of 781— were among children under five. And four out of five of the 416 had no vaccine.

Throughout the country less than half of all children under five have had three injections and almost one third have had no vaccine at all.

In addition, Dr. Prather said, more than 54 per cent of the population under 40 years have not had the basic three shots.

Ridgeley Lions To Offer Home Lighting Prizes

The first prize in the Ridgeley Lions Club's Christmas Home Lighting Contest will be a $15 cash award, according to Thomas Cowan, chairman.

Other prizes in the annual contest will be a second cash prize of $10, followed by many merchandise prizes, he said in a report to the club this week.

Other members of the committee are Robert Maxson, Ray Coughenour, Aden Everstine and Harvey Bradley.

The judging will be done Saturday, December 27, by three nonresident judges.

Carl Johnson announced that the annual sale of Christmas trees had been quite successful and that only a few trees remain to be sold.

The next regular meeting of the Ridgeley Lions Club will be a dinner meeting served by the Ladies Bible Class in the United Brethren Church in Ridgeley January 12.

Melvin M. Heiskell, president appointed Leon Hammond, Bert Spiker and Robert Maxson as an Auditing Committee to go over the Club funds as of January 1.

Postal Business Will Soon Return To Normal Pace

Personnel of Cumberland and area Post Offices have let out a sigh of relief now that the mail rush for Christmas 1958 apparently is just about history.

Yesterday last-minute card and package mailers visited the Post Office but business was not quite as brisk as during the past week or so.

Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon Sr. said that the cancellations at the local Post Office totaled 96,500 on Monday bringing to 1,106,900 the number since December 8.

This is about 100,000 less than for the same period in 1957, he said. Those who mailed Christmas cards yesterday are assured they will be in the hands of friends in Cumberland in time for Christmas.

Tomorrow no cards will be delivered, as carriers will devote their efforts to delivering parcels and special delivery packages. Post Office box service will be available.

Welfare Director Requests Delay In Her Budget

Miss Ethel Wilderman, Allegany County welfare director, appeared at yesterday's meeting of the Board of County Commissioners to request an extension of the January 15 deadline for submitting her budget for the 1959-60 fiscal year which starts July 1.

She explained that it is difficult for her department to prepare its budget by January because of a degree of uncertainty as to the amounts to be provided by the state and federal governments.

The commissioners emphasized that they would like to know by January 15 the amount of money her department will need in county funds in the next fiscal year.

DONNA LEE SLOAN

No Charges Placed Pending Probe

Services for Miss Donna Lee Sloan, 16-year-old Lonaconing girl, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident late Monday night near Lonaconing, will be conducted tomorrow at 3 p. m. at her residence on State Street.

Rev. James R. Eakin, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Barton, will officiate and burial will be in the Old Lonaconing Cemetery.

Miss Sloan, daughter of Charles and Marcelle (Allen) Sloan, was a passenger in a car driven by Harry J. Warnick, 20, of near Lonaconing, who was injured in the crash. He is reported in "satisfactory" condition at Miners Hospital, Frostburg.

Car Spins, Hits House

Another passenger in the same auto, Miss Mary M. Smith, 16, Lonaconing, was treated at the hospital for minor injuries and was released.

The accident occurred about 10:20 p. m. on Route 36 at Knapps Meadow, two miles north of Lonaconing. Trooper Bruce E. Diehl of the Maryland State Police said the Warnick car went into a spin when the youth applied the brakes.

The car rammed into a porch of a house on the right side of the road, returned to strike another car, and then overturned.

State Police said Miss Sloan was pinned between the door and the frame of the car. She was taken to the hospital, where she died an hour later.

Richard J. Hawkins, 47, Midland, driver of the second car was not injured in the crash.

Investigation Under Way

State's Attorney James S. Getty said yesterday no charges have been placed in the fatal crash pending a complete investigation of the case.

He said he questioned Trooper Diehl, Mr. Hawkins and a mechanic who recently made some repairs on the Warnick car. Mr. Getty said the Warnick youth will be questioned as soon as his condition permits.

Miss Sloan was a Junior honor student at Valley High School and was a cheerleader and a majorette for the school band. She was a member of the Junior Choir of Lonaconing Presbyterian Church.

Surviving, besides her parents, are two sisters, Jennie and Eleanor Sloan, both at home, and two brothers, Frederick and Daniel Sloan, both at home.

Miss Sloan was treasurer of the Junior Class, treasurer of the Senior Tri-Hi-Y, a majorette for the Lonaconing City Band, past vice president of the Student Council, past president of the Latin Club, vice president of the V-Ettes Pep Club and was an attendant in the queen's court at the class dance in October.

Members of her class will serve as pallbearers.

Equity Suits Filed

Firemen Save Area Man's Home

Firemen from three companies arrived just in time yesterday afternoon to save the home and several buildings of a Bedford Road area resident from being destroyed by fire.

Firefighters from Bedford Road, Bowman's Addition and Baltimore Pike arrived at the residence of Charles Stewart just as the blaze was starting to scorch the paint on the buildings.

The Stewart property is located on Pine Ridge Road off U. S. Route 220 about half a mile past the Maryland line into Pennsylvania, near Lake Gordon.

Firemen said they received the call about 12:15, and 30 men from the three volunteer fire companies responded.

They reported the blaze started when some rubbish that was being burned got out of control. Nearly 20 acres of grass burned before the fire was extinguishd.

Firemen said the home, barn, and garage of Mr. Stewart and a cabin nearby were in the center of the 20 acres which burned.

Nearly two hours were required by firemen to bring the fire under control. Two fire trucks and a water pumper were used in fighting the fire. Because of the distance from water, firemen had to use a pump relay system from a reservoir about half a mile away.

Tindal Renamed Md. Director Of Bankers' Unit

A. W. Tindal, president of the First National Bank of Cumberland, has been re-elected Maryland director of the Independent Bankers Association of America, a national organization of some 5,500 banks. Announcement of Mr. Tindal's election was made by Ben DuBois, secretary of the IBA, which maintains its national headquarters in Sauk Centre, Minnesota.

The Cumberland banker began his career in the north in 1919 immediately after Army service during World War I when he went to work for the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company in New Castle, Pa.

He held almost every job in the bank during his 31-year stay there. When he left the Pennsylvania bank late in 1950 to go south, he was vice president, treasurer and director.

Mr. Tindal became executive vice president of First National in February of 1951 at the age of 52. A year later he was named president and a director of the bank, seventh oldest bank in Maryland.

Mr. Tindal is a native of Lawrence County, Pa., and was graduated from New Castle high school.

His new three-year term of office with the IBA will begin January 5.

The Independent Bankers Association was organized in Glenwood, Minnesota, on May 9, 1930, with an original membership of 28 banks. The IBA's purpose is preservation of the nation's system of independent banking. During the past year, the association has taken an active role in the campaign to lessen what it considers a tax advantage that mutual savings banks and savings and loans hold over commercial banks.

Garrett Asked To Urge Area Research Lab

State Department Is Backing Proposal

Garrett County legislators were asked last night to support proposals for locating a branch of the Department of Research and Education in Western Maryland.

The plan has already been endorsed by the Allegany County Delegation and the Board of Natural Resources has approved the preliminary report and endorsed further investigation of its possibilities.

Don A. Emerson, instructor in conservation and natural resources at Frostburg State Teachers College, outlined the proposal at a meeting in Accident School before State Senator-elect Bernard I. Gonder Sr. and the Garrett County Delegation composed of Delegate Leslie E. Savage, chairman, and Delegates Elbert Buckle and Elza E. Bray.

The Western Maryland branch of the State Department of Research and Education would help increase the productivity of natural resources, including game, fish, water, forests and recreation land, according to Dr. L. Eugene Cronin, director.

It would serve as a place for both formal and informal conservation education and as a research facility to help solve natural resources problems in this area.

Representing the state department at the meeting were Dr. Vaughn Flyger, a state biologist, and Byron L. Ashbaugh, education assistant.

Urging support for the area branch were William H. Johnson, district forester; Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, and Frank T. Powers, chief of the Bureau of Mines.

Officials of the Western Maryland Wildlife Federation explained how such a facility would help area sportsmen.

No legislation is needed to establish the branch research and education facility, but funds would have to be included in the supplementary budget.

Firemen Get Four Calls

City firemen received four calls yesterday.

East Side firemen were called to 322 Bedford Street about 10:05 a. m. when gasoline being used to clean some bicycle parts became ignited.

The fire was out on arrival, firemen said. The home is occupied by C. A. Rice and the the fire occurred in the basement.

Minutes later, West Side firemen received a call to 328 Beall Street, where there was a smoke scare. Firemen said a flue pipe on a heater broke loose and smoke began seeping into a downstairs room. The loose pipe was put back into place by the firemen.

At 3:41 p. m. yesterday East Side firemen were again called into action. At that time they went to the Smith Garden Center, 1120 Shade's Lane, where a brush fire was quenched.

South End firemen got their turn at extinguishing a fire when they were called at 3:52 p. m. and checked a grass fire at 303 Clement Street. No damage was reported.

Cranford Sentenced In Juvenile Court

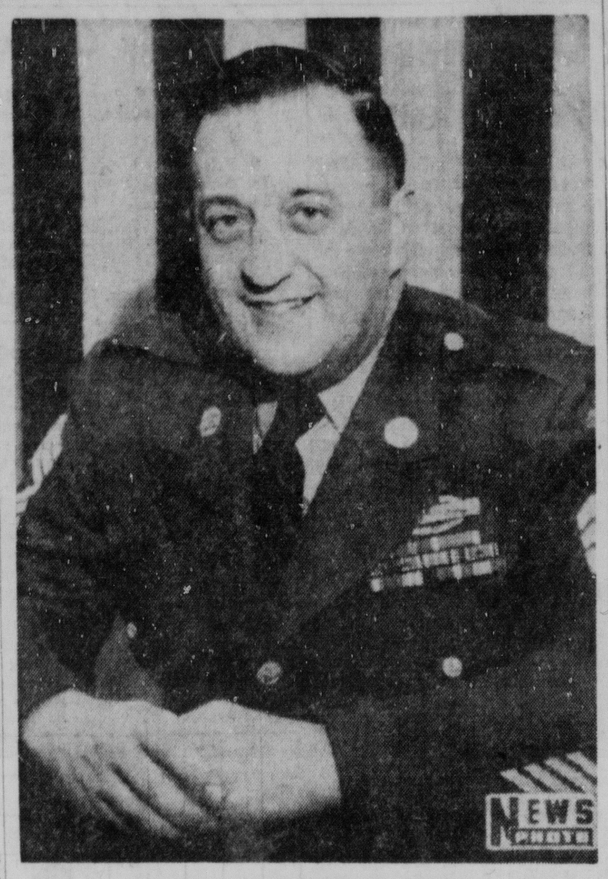
Jack Cranford, 34, of Maryland Avenue, yesterday was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction for contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old local youth.

However, Magistrate Fred H. Anderson of Juvenile Court suspended the sentence on condition Cranford leave town.

Cranford was arrested by local police on December 14 on a morals charge. He was found guilty at a hearing last week but sentence was withheld pending a psychiatric examination.



M/SGT. JAMES D. SIMMONS

Sergeant With 14 Years Service Signs Up Again

A local serviceman who has been in the Army for the past 14 years, re-enlisted yesterday at the recruiting office here for a period of six years.

He is M/Sgt. James D. Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Simmons, 621 Frederick Street, who has been assigned as an advisor of the 20th U. S. Army Corps Reserve, Fort Hayes, Columbus, Ohio.

He will report for duty on December 30 and will be assigned to administrative training and supply. Sergeant Simmons, who attended Allegany High School, entered the Army here in January 1944.

After basic training at Camp Blanding, Fla., he was assigned to Fort Rucker, Ala., and in 1944 was sent to Europe. He re-enlisted in the service while stationed in Vienna, Austria, and after returning to the United States for a 90-day leave, returned to Europe.

He was released in April of 1947 and was a member of Company C, 115th Infantry Regiment, Maryland National Guard here until November that year when he re-enlisted in the Army.

The following year he served in Korea and upon his return to the United States in 1950 was sent to Fort Riley, Kansas. In 1952 he was discharged and upon re-enlistment was assigned as NCO advisor of the Army Reserve here.

In February 1956 he went back to Korea, then later returned to this country. His discharge was effective December 2 this year. He is married to the former Arlene Bennett of Headsville, W. Va., and the couple have a son, seven, and a daughter, three.

Day Operation Scheduled For Street Sweeper

Street Commissioner John J. Long announced yesterday that all street sweeping crews will begin operating during the daylight hours effective December 29.

The department has crews on both night and day duty under the present setup.

Long's announcement, in the form of a memorandum to foremen and sweeper crews, said the night crew will report at 6 a. m. and work until 2:30 p. m. The work day will begin on the downtown area.

When sweeper crews are in districts, Long said they will be under supervision of the district foreman. They will be held responsible for improved cleaned streets in their districts, the announcement said.

Long said the new move will give an additional sweeper crew in the districts "and there is no reason why the sweeper schedule for streets cannot be met as set and additional streets cleaned."

WM Railway Would Settle Tax Case

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—An offer by the Western Maryland Railroad to settle out of court its pending suits against property valuations used for tax purposes was taken under consideration Tuesday by the West Virginia Board of Public Works.

The board was informed by Asst. Atty. Gen. Joe Hodgson that the railroad would drop all pending suits if the board would agree to set the value of its property in West Virginia at $11,250,000 in each of the four years from 1955 to 1958.

The board had set valuations at $13,000,000 for 1955, $15,000,000 for 1956, and $12,500,000 for each of the following two years.

The railroad appealed the 1955 and 1956 valuations to the Mineral County Circuit Court and won reduction to $9,500,000 each instance. The state appealed the reduction to the State Supreme Court where arguments in the case are scheduled for next Jan. 20.

Similar appeals for the 1957 and 1958 valuations are pending before the circuit court but Hodgson said he expected the lower court to hold off until the high court decides the other two cases.

Hodgson told the board the compromise offer was opposed by John Murphy, supervisor of the assessment and levying division of the State Tax Department.

Hodgson said Murphy felt that the offer made by Eugene S. Williams, a former chairman of the railroad's board of directors, should be turned down by the board because the state "was in a strong position" in the current litigation before the Supreme Court.

Murphy told the state attorney general's office he thought the railroad's evidence would not stand up in court, Hodgson said.

City Council Gets Surprise, Two 'Thanks'

Two letters of thanks, a rarity, came to the Mayor and City Council here Monday.

Mrs. H. R. Simons, 812 Oldtown Road, wrote to commend the city officials for refusal to grant a license for a used car lot in her area of Oldtown Road.

The second letter was from Sister Celeste, administrator of Sacred Heart Hospital, and was addressed primarily to Commissioner John J. Long. She expressed thanks for his generosity and consideration in answering the hospital's request for service to help repair a broken underground hot water line.

Sister Celeste also singled out Andrew Heller, street superintendent and H. W. Rodenhauser, foreman, for their efforts.

Assembly Asked To Pass Bill On Veterans Bonus

Boosting Beer Tax Is Recommended

The General Assembly has been urged to submit the veterans bonus question to the voters in 1960, according to Delegate Noel Speir Cook.

The Frostburg legislator was a member of the special Veterans Bonus commission which recommended Monday night that legislation for a bonus for World Wars I and II and the Korean conflict be adopted by the 1959 General Assembly. Voters, according to the Constitution, must have the final say.

He said the proposal being urged by the commission would give eligible veterans payments of not more than $300.

Suggest Tax Source

The plan calls for a bonus of $10 a month for stateside service and $15 a month for overseas duty.

Del. Cook said the 15-member commission named by Governor McKeldin is recommending that the estimated cost of $90,000,000 be raised by increasing the tax on beer from three to 10 cents a gallon.

He said the committee believes the tax would bring in about $6,000,000 a year and meet the entire costs of the bonus in 15 years.

30,000 In State

Such a tax, he said the committee has pointed out, would not affect beer sales, since the Maryland tax on beer is considerably lower than in neighboring states.

Del. Cook said the bonus would be paid to all who enlisted or were inducted in Maryland, unless they have received similar compensation from another state.

It is estimated Maryland has about 30,000 war veterans in civil life who would be eligible for a bonus.

Civil Service Board To Meet

The Cumberland Civil Service Commission is expected to meet early next month to review applications for several city positions and perhaps to make a decision in the appeal of Sgt. James W. Brown from his demotion from sergeant to patrolman.

It was explained that by that time, all applications to persons interested in a test for assistant city engineer may be received.

The city received nine inquiries from applicants and mailed application blanks, so all uniform information would be available.

Since December 29 was the deadline for returning the applications, all should be on hand by the time the meeting is held.

Also to be considered are five applications for a clerk-typist test and three for chief clerk in the Water Department.

Transcripts of testimony taken in the lengthy appeal hearing December 15 have been turned over to members of the commission.

Local Firm Is Low Bidder On Route 36 Job

24-Foot Roadway Will Be Provided

The S. T. Brotemarkle Company of Cumberland yesterday submitted the lowest of four ids for the construction of 2.713 miles of new road on Maryland Route 36.

Bids on the project, which will eliminate one of the most treacherous stretches of highway in Allegany County, were opened yesterday by the State Roads Commission in Baltimore.

The Brotemarkle firm's apparent low bid was for $1,027,496.50.

Other bids for the project according to G. Bates Chaires, District 6 engineer, were:

Cumberland Contracting Company, Cumberland, $1,090,988.50; George F. Hazelwood Company, Cumberland, $1,103,908.93, and Burkholder and Burkholder, Winchester, Va., $1,159,463.90.

Must Move Creek

The contract will begin at the western end of the recently completed Route 36 at Corriganville and end one-third of a mile beyond Barrelville.

The project calls for the grading, drainage work and surfacing of a 24-foot-wide roadway which will eventually become part of a four-lane highway.

It will entail the moving of Jennings Run and there will be a 60-foot bridge over the creek in one spot.

Plans also provide for a pedestrian bridge at the intersection of Route 36 and 47, the Wellersburg Road, and an entrance bridge.

The present stretch of road is narrow and is hemmed in on one side by Jennings Run and on the other side by cliffs.

The project will be a continuation of SRC plans for a modern highway from Route 40 in the Narrows to Frostburg by way of Route 36.

No Hearing Needed

The SRC this year completed the new intersection of Routes 40 and 36 in the Narrows and four miles of new road from the Narrows to the western outskirts of Corriganville.

When the contract was advertised, the SRC served notice that persons affected by the project could request a hearing.

Mr. Chaires said a hearing was not needed, as the four persons who inquired by phone to learn how it affected their homes were invited to come to the district office.

All were satisfied, he said, after seeing plans for the new road.

Couple Killed On Turnpike

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—An Illinois couple was killed and their daughter injured Tuesday in a one car wreck on the Pennsylvania Turnpike about 16 miles east of Somerset.

State Police identified the victimes as Louis W. Warren, 59, of Hillside, Ill., and his wife, Mildred, 55.

Their daughter, Mildred Lois, 18, was reported in fair condition at Bedford County Memorial Hospital suffering from a broken leg, shock and other injuries.

Police said the car, driven by Warren, skidded on the wet roadway on a curve near the Allegheny Tunnel and plowed into a steel barrier post on the medial strip.

PPG Contract Talks Recessed

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Representatives of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. and the United Glass and Ceramics Union Tuesday returned home after recessing contract talks here until Sunday morning.

After a week of steady essions, both joint and separate, the negotiators and Federal Mediator Hayward Montoney decided at midnight Monday to have a holiday recess.

"There can be no statement as to progress or lack of progress at this time," Montoney said.

Negotiations were held Monday morning, afternoon and night with only time out for meals in an effort to reach a settlement prior to Christmas.

Agreement on a new contract would send more than 12,000 strikers back to their jobs at six Pittsburgh Plate plants in five states, including one at Mount Vernon, Ohio.

They have been off the job for two and a half months.

LAST SHOPPING DAY TO CHRISTMAS

New Yule Gift Idea: Polio Shot

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dr. Perry F. Prather, state director of health, Tuesday urged Marylanders of all ages to immunize themselves and their children against polio.

He strongly endorsed the recent statement by Dr. Leroy E. Burney, surgeon general of the United States who said:

"At this Christmas season of the year I can think of no better lifetime gift which a parent can make to a child than to give him protection against polio."

Dr. Prather said progress toward control of polio in Maryland has been good. But a recent third anniversary review by the Department of Health, Dr. Prather said, showed that even in the best covered and most vulnerable younger age group — birth to 20 years — about 30 per cent had not been completely immunized. That percentage had not received the required series of three injections of the Salk polio vaccine.

"There is absolutely no room for complacency," Dr. Prather said.

He cited national figures which show 1,815 cases of paralytic polio for the first nine months of this year, 238 cases more than in the same period of 1957.

In six states most seriously affected, he noted, the majority of paralytic cases — 416 out of 781— were among children under five. And four out of five of the 416 had no vaccine.

Throughout the country less than half of all children under five have had three injections and almost one third have had no vaccine at all.

In addition, Dr. Prather said, more than 54 per cent of the population under 40 years have not had the basic three shots.

Ridgeley Lions To Offer Home Lighting Prizes

The first prize in the Ridgeley Lions Club's Christmas Home Lighting Contest will be a $15 cash award, according to Thomas Cowan, chairman.

Other prizes in the annual contest will be a second cash prize of $10, followed by many merchandise prizes, he said in a report to the club this week.

Other members of the committee are Robert Maxson, Ray Coughenour, Aden Everstine and Harvey Bradley.

The judging will be done Saturday, December 27, by three nonresident judges.

Carl Johnson announced that the annual sale of Christmas trees had been quite successful and that only a few trees remain to be sold.

The next regular meeting of the Ridgeley Lions Club will be a dinner meeting served by the Ladies Bible Class in the United Brethren Church in Ridgeley January 12.

Melvin M. Heiskell, president appointed Leon Hammond, Bert Spiker and Robert Maxson as an Auditing Committee to go over the Club funds as of January 1.

Postal Business Will Soon Return To Normal Pace

Personnel of Cumberland and area Post Offices have let out a sigh of relief now that the mail rush for Christmas 1958 apparently is just about history.

Yesterday last-minute card and package mailers visited the Post Office but business was not quite as brisk as during the past week or so.

Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon Sr. said that the cancellations at the local Post Office totaled 96,500 on Monday bringing to 1,106,900 the number since December 8.

This is about 100,000 less than for the same period in 1957, he said. Those who mailed Christmas cards yesterday are assured they will be in the hands of friends in Cumberland in time for Christmas.

Tomorrow no cards will be delivered, as carriers will devote their efforts to delivering parcels and special delivery packages. Post Office box service will be available.

Welfare Director Requests Delay In Her Budget

Miss Ethel Wilderman, Allegany County welfare director, appeared at yesterday's meeting of the Board of County Commissioners to request an extension of the January 15 deadline for submitting her budget for the 1959-60 fiscal year which starts July 1.

She explained that it is difficult for her department to prepare its budget by January because of a degree of uncertainty as to the amounts to be provided by the state and federal governments.

The commissioners emphasized that they would like to know by January 15 the amount of money her department will need in county funds in the next fiscal year.

DONNA LEE SLOAN

No Charges Placed Pending Probe

Services for Miss Donna Lee Sloan, 16-year-old Lonaconing girl, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident late Monday night near Lonaconing, will be conducted tomorrow at 3 p. m. at her residence on State Street.

Rev. James R. Eakin, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Barton, will officiate and burial will be in the Old Lonaconing Cemetery.

Miss Sloan, daughter of Charles and Marcelle (Allen) Sloan, was a passenger in a car driven by Harry J. Warnick, 20, of near Lonaconing, who was injured in the crash. He is reported in "satisfactory" condition at Miners Hospital, Frostburg.

Car Spins, Hits House

Another passenger in the same auto, Miss Mary M. Smith, 16, Lonaconing, was treated at the hospital for minor injuries and was released.

The accident occurred about 10:20 p. m. on Route 36 at Knapps Meadow, two miles north of Lonaconing. Trooper Bruce E. Diehl of the Maryland State Police said the Warnick car went into a spin when the youth applied the brakes.

The car rammed into a porch of a house on the right side of the road, returned to strike another car, and then overturned.

State Police said Miss Sloan was pinned between the door and the frame of the car. She was taken to the hospital, where she died an hour later.

Richard J. Hawkins, 47, Midland, driver of the second car was not injured in the crash.

Investigation Under Way

State's Attorney James S. Getty said yesterday no charges have been placed in the fatal crash pending a complete investigation of the case.

He said he questioned Trooper Diehl, Mr. Hawkins and a mechanic who recently made some repairs on the Warnick car. Mr. Getty said the Warnick youth will be questioned as soon as his condition permits.

Miss Sloan was a Junior honor student at Valley High School and was a cheerleader and a majorette for the school band. She was a member of the Junior Choir of Lonaconing Presbyterian Church.

Surviving, besides her parents, are two sisters, Jennie and Eleanor Sloan, both at home, and two brothers, Frederick and Daniel Sloan, both at home.

Members of her class will serve as pallbearers.

After basic training at Camp Blanding, Fla., he was assigned to Fort Rucker, Ala., and in 1944 was sent to Europe. He re-enlisted in the service while stationed in Vienna, Austria, and after returning to the United States for a 90-day leave, returned to Europe.

He was released in April of 1947 and was a member of Company C, 115th Infantry Regiment, Maryland National Guard here until November that year when he re-enlisted in the Army.

The following year he served in Korea and upon his return to the United States in 1950 was sent to Fort Riley, Kansas. In 1952 he was discharged and upon re-enlistment was assigned as NCO advisor of the Army Reserve here.

In February 1956 he went back to Korea, then later returned to this country. His discharge was effective December 2 this year. He is married to the former Arlene Bennett of Headsville, W. Va., and the couple have a son, seven, and a daughter, three.

Day Operation Scheduled For Street Sweeper

Street Commissioner John J. Long announced yesterday that all street sweeping crews will begin operating during the daylight hours effective December 29.

The department has crews on both night and day duty under the present setup.

Long's announcement, in the form of a memorandum to foremen and sweeper crews, said the night crew will report at 6 a. m. and work until 2:30 p. m. The work day will begin on the downtown area.

When sweeper crews are in districts, Long said they will be under supervision of the district foreman. They will be held responsible for improved cleaned streets in their districts, the announcement said.

Long said the new move will give an additional sweeper crew in the districts "and there is no reason why the sweeper schedule for streets cannot be met as set and additional streets cleaned."

WM Railway Would Settle Tax Case

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—An offer by the Western Maryland Railroad to settle out of court its pending suits against property valuations used for tax purposes was taken under consideration Tuesday by the West Virginia Board of Public Works.

The board was informed by Asst. Atty. Gen. Joe Hodgson that the railroad would drop all pending suits if the board would agree to set the value of its property in West Virginia at $11,250,000 in each of the four years from 1955 to 1958.

The board had set valuations at $13,000,000 for 1955, $15,000,000 for 1956, and $12,500,000 for each of the following two years.

The railroad appealed the 1955 and 1956 valuations to the Mineral County Circuit Court and won reduction to $9,500,000 each instance. The state appealed the reduction to the State Supreme Court where arguments in the case are scheduled for next Jan. 20.

Similar appeals for the 1957 and 1958 valuations are pending before the circuit court but Hodgson said he expected the lower court to hold off until the high court decides the other two cases.

Hodgson told the board the compromise offer was opposed by John Murphy, supervisor of the assessment and levying division of the State Tax Department.

Hodgson said Murphy felt that the offer made by Eugene S. Williams, a former chairman of the railroad's board of directors, should be turned down by the board because the state "was in a strong position" in the current litigation before the Supreme Court.

Murphy told the state attorney general's office he thought the railroad's evidence would not stand up in court, Hodgson said.

City Council Gets Surprise, Two 'Thanks'

Two letters of thanks, a rarity, came to the Mayor and City Council here Monday.

Mrs. H. R. Simons, 812 Oldtown Road, wrote to commend the city officials for refusal to grant a license for a used car lot in her area of Oldtown Road.

The second letter was from Sister Celeste, administrator of Sacred Heart Hospital, and was addressed primarily to Commissioner John J. Long. She expressed thanks for his generosity and consideration in answering the hospital's request for service to help repair a broken underground hot water line.

Sister Celeste also singled out Andrew Heller, street superintendent and H. W. Rodenhauser, foreman, for their efforts.

Boosting Beer Tax Is Recommended

The General Assembly has been urged to submit the veterans bonus question to the voters in 1960, according to Delegate Noel Speir Cook.

The Frostburg legislator was a member of the special Veterans Bonus commission which recommended Monday night that legislation for a bonus for World Wars I and II and the Korean conflict be adopted by the 1959 General Assembly. Voters, according to the Constitution, must have the final say.

He said the proposal being urged by the commission would give eligible veterans payments of not more than $300.

Suggest Tax Source

The plan calls for a bonus of $10 a month for stateside service and $15 a month for overseas duty.

Del. Cook said the 15-member commission named by Governor McKeldin is recommending that the estimated cost of $90,000,000 be raised by increasing the tax on beer from three to 10 cents a gallon.

He said the committee believes the tax would bring in about $6,000,000 a year and meet the entire costs of the bonus in 15 years.

30,000 In State

Such a tax, he said the committee has pointed out, would not affect beer sales, since the Maryland tax on beer is considerably lower than in neighboring states.

Del. Cook said the bonus would be paid to all who enlisted or were inducted in Maryland, unless they have received similar compensation from another state.

It is estimated Maryland has about 30,000 war veterans in civil life who would be eligible for a bonus.

Civil Service Board To Meet

The Cumberland Civil Service Commission is expected to meet early next month to review applications for several city positions and perhaps to make a decision in the appeal of Sgt. James W. Brown from his demotion from sergeant to patrolman.

It was explained that by that time, all applications to persons interested in a test for assistant city engineer may be received.

The city received nine inquiries from applicants and mailed application blanks, so all uniform information would be available.

Since December 29 was the deadline for returning the applications, all should be on hand by the time the meeting is held.

Also to be considered are five applications for a clerk-typist test and three for chief clerk in the Water Department.

Transcripts of testimony taken in the lengthy appeal hearing December 15 have been turned over to members of the commission.
